Generalissimo Chiang's Nationalist Forces Hard Pressed by Communists

China Gets U.S. Ammunition to Check Red Onslaught

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—The United States has agreed to turn over to China 130,000,000 rounds of surplus rifle ammunition for weapons of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops.

State department officials also told reporters that the Nanking government has been authorized to purchase other military supplies from American private manufacturers.

On the question of economic aid for the hard-pressed nationalist government, the export-import bank announced that it will consider lending money to China for specific projects.

Well-posted officials said that coincidentally with the Communists' drive in Manchuria and North China, Nanking representatives have been making urgent overtures for weapons, ammunition and other military equipment—from both American army and navy surplus stocks and from commercial manufacturers.

If the pleas are heeded diplomatic authorities expect the answer to be made known in an early China-aid policy decision by President Truman and State Secretary Marshall.

Military experts say ammunition is the most urgent current need of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces.

At a time when Nanking officials have been charging—without confirmation—that Russia has supplied the Communists with ample arms, the ammunition supplies of Nationalist troops have been severely rationed.

Small arms and some artillery ammunition is obtainable on short notice from American commercial arms plants, as are aircraft of many types. But officials said quick delivery on such weapons as machine guns, rifles and artillery could be had only from wartime army and Navy stocks which might be declared surplus.

While the United States since V-J Day has supplied limited quantities of arms to friendly countries in Europe, Latin America and elsewhere, China has received none since Marshall halted all deliveries last year before he abandoned his attempt to close the breach between the Nationalist government and the Communists.

There has been no formal embargo however, and no statutory block stands in the way of resuming shipments.

Weapons of Chiang's troops are largely American.

New Indonesian, Dutch Strife Seen

By STANLEY SWINTON

JOGJAKARTA, Java, June 27—(AP)—Confronted by a solid front of opposition to his moderate policies, Premier Sutan Sjahrir quit as head of the Indonesian republic's cabinet today and Indonesian sources said "only a miracle" could prevent renewed armed conflict with the Dutch.

A Dutch spokesman in Batavia, however, said the Netherlands East Indies government expected President Soekarno, in his first move as head of an emergency presidential cabinet, to request arbitration of the current crisis by a third power or by the United Nations.

The spokesman said the new government had been informed unofficially that a letter from Soekarno containing such an arbitration request probably would be delivered to H. J. Van Mook, acting Netherlands governor-general some time today.

Sjahrir stepped out during an all-night cabinet meeting at which he found all Indonesian political parties aligned against his policy of making concessions to the Netherlands in negotiations concerning formation of an interim government for the United States of Indonesia, which is slated to attain independence Jan. 1, 1949.

3 New Oil Wells In Leduc Sector

Activity of the Leduc Consolidated Oils Limited will add three new wells in the new Edmonton oil fields close to Imperial's producers in the Leduc sector, it was learned here Friday.

Union Drilling Company has completed rigging its drilling equipment on the Leduc Consolidated No. 1 well, located a mile due south of Imperial No. 3 producer, and spudding in operations will commence in the next few days.

The same company is erecting a derrick on Leduc Consolidated No. 2, one-quarter mile south of No. 1, and rotary equipment is being moved in.

Leduc Consolidated No. 3 will be drilled by General Petroleums Limited on the property one quarter of a mile north of No. 1. The derrick is being assembled, rotary equipment is being moved in soon and the hole will be spudded in.

Besides announcement of this expansion program Leduc Consolidated is reported to have obtained a sub-lease on 80 acres located one half mile due east of the company's half section to the north.

Holding stock in Leduc Consolidated are nine independents including Valley Oil Operators Limited; Mercury Oils Limited; Royal Canadian Oils Limited; Gas and Oil Products Limited; Union Drilling and Development Company; Turner Valley Oil Company Limited; Mill City Petroleums Limited; Leduc West Oils Limited and Globe Oil Company Limited.

Imperial has not yet struck the red rock formation which in its four producers indicated porous strata just underneath. At 4,919 feet their No. 5 Leduc well is still coring and by next week depth should be sufficient to yield some indications.

A drill stem test was scheduled for McColl-Frontenac's East Wetaskiwin well at 4,584 feet Thursday, but no reports have been released by the company. Drilling continues in their other wells at Bigstone Creek and Wizard Lake.

Three Polio Cases Reported in Alberta

Three cases of the dread poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis have been reported in the province up to the present, Dr. A. Somerville, director of communicable disease announced Friday.

All three cases are from the Edson district, he said. One was contracted by a Mercoal youth who had been resident for some months in Edson. The other two were reported from Bickerdike and from Rosevear. The last case was reported June 17.

This is the time of the year at which polio strikes. Dr. Somerville said.

Foreign Ministers Meet in Paris

Europe Aid Talks Open in Secret

By Joseph W. Grigg

PARIS, June 27—(BUP)—The three-power foreign ministers conference on European reconstruction threw a curtain of secrecy around its proceedings today.

THE FOREIGN MINISTERS of Russia, Great Britain and France met at the Quai D'Orsay, and quickly agreed that no news of the meetings would be given to the press.

A press conference which the French foreign office had scheduled for 7 p.m. was cancelled and correspondents were informed that they would not be informed of any details of today's conversations.

The ministers met to discuss the Marshall plan for European reconstruction shortly after British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin arrived in Paris by plane. He quickly joined Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault in the "Parrot" room of the French foreign ministry.

FROM THE conference will emerge Molotov's decision whether Russia will join Britain and France in organizing an American-aided recovery program. If Molotov refuses, Europe may be split in half economically.

LONDON, June 27—(AP)—Authoritative British and United States sources said today the two countries had reached the "broad conclusion" that the Marshall Aid-Europe program should be operated outside the United Nations framework.

Expect Settlement On VLA Homes Soon

With the federal government reported to have made an emergency grant of $4,000, the lengthy holdup of completion of about 40 homes of veterans on the Grierson Estate was believed to be near settlement Friday.

Contractors who quit work on the homes as a result of insufficient funds, were said Friday to be holding discussions with Veterans Land Act officials and it was felt that a satisfactory plan that would permit completion of the houses, would be worked out.

The matter has been the subject of many protests by veterans through Edmonton branch No. 24 of the Canadian Legion.

Branch president Percy Gwynne said he expected an announcement Saturday.

Bennett's Title Ends With Death

OTTAWA, June 27—(CP)—The London report that with Viscount Bennett's death the title ends brought from an external affairs official today information that this was the normal procedure.

Viscount Bennett left a brother and two nephews, but the title can only be handed down by direct descent except in rare cases where special provision is made.

Since R. B. Bennett was the first Viscount Bennett, his title cannot be inherited through any of his ancestors.

The Viscount's brother, Capt. Ronald V. Bennett, lives in Sackville, N.B., and two nephews, Richard Coats of Montreal and William Herridge, Jr., of Ottawa, also survive.

The nephews are sons of the Viscount's two sisters, both whom are dead.

Lafond is reported to have been leaving an automobile with his back to the road when struck by the truck. RCMP said the driver of the truck had no chance to stop nor avoid the man. The district coroner said no inquest will be held.

More "Flying Discs" Claimed Seen in U.S.

By The Associated Press

Conjecture multiplied Friday as widely separated areas reported incredibly fast disc-like objects flashing through the sky—but skeptics remained.

FOLLOWING Wednesday's report at Pendleton, Ore., by Kenneth Arnold of Boise, Idaho, that he had seen nine saucer-shaped, shiny objects dipping and skimming through the sky between Mt. Rainier and Mt. Adams in Washington state at an estimated 1,200 miles an hour, came these observations Thursday:

Byron Savage, Oklahoma City businessman pilot, said that five or six weeks ago he observed a flat disc-like object hurtling through the sky at tremendous speed.

At Kansas City, W. I. Davenport, a carpenter, said that Wednesday

U.S. and Turkey To Sign Pact

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—The United States is expected to sign an agreement with Turkey in the next few days providing for a $100,000,000 modernization of the Turkish army.

The agreement, similar to the one signed with Greece June 20, is being negotiated at Ankara.

Negotiations have moved forward slowly because Turkish officials wanted to reassure themselves and their country that the United States is not resorting to any kind of "American imperialism."

The "imperialism" issue is one which the Russians have been plugging hard in connection with the Turkish, as well as the Greek, aspects of American opposition to Communist expansion in the Middle East.

At the same time the Soviets have been applying steady propaganda pressure on Turkey for both a military share in control of the Dardanelles and for the cession of the Turkish provinces of Kars and Ardahan to the Soviet Union.

The fact, however, that Russian pressure is not acute now—when the American position is strong and clear—is regarded here as highly significant.

China Reds Fire Ravaged Rail City

By John Roderick

MUKDEN Manchuria, June 27—(AP)—The Communists put Szepingkai to the torch and withdrew today from that ravaged railway junction 105 miles northeast of Mukden to escape a pincers threat by two government columns.

The Communists, who had taken virtually all of the city and railway installations in a two-week assault, made a forced march to positions about 12 miles to the west.

There they remain in a position to threaten the all-important Mukden-Changchun railway, but government military paper Chung Su Jih Pao said the development frustrated Communist plans to invade Mukden and Changchun themselves.

Former Conservative Prime Minister

Noted Canadian Statesman, Viscount Bennett Is Dead

VISCOUNT R. B. BENNETT

DORKING, Surrey, Eng., June 27 — (CP) — Viscount Bennett of Calgary, the prairie lawyer who became Conservative prime minister of Canada, died suddenly last night at his Juniper Hill residence near Dorking in the quiet Surrey countryside.

At 76—he would have celebrated his 77th birthday next Thursday—Lord Bennett had continued until the last most of his public activities: Red Cross work, House of Lords, attendance at ceremonies and making speeches.

HIS FRIENDS had known his health had failed in recent years and had seen him looking somewhat tired but they were shocked when his grief-stricken household staff telephoned the news of his death.

Announcement of the funeral arrangements was made by Lord Beaverbrook, his old friend and next-door neighbor—they were law students together in New Brunswick. Services will be held in the Little Michleham Anglican Church, to which Lord Bennett had promised a legacy.

Because he suffered from coronary thrombosis and from diabetes, and still felt the effects of a pneumonia attack last winter, Lord Bennett never took a bath

Tributes Paid Lord Bennett

"One of Canada's great statesmen and a great Empire builder," was a part of the tribute paid by Premier Ernest Manning when he learned of the death of Viscount Bennett, Friday. This was typical of many tributes paid by men and women in all walks of life.

A lifetime devoted to the public service was certain to have a profound influence on the history of his country, Mr. Manning added. This was particularly true in Alberta, in which province Viscount Bennett had spent so many years.

Mr. Manning also paid tribute to the "munificent philanthropies" of the late statesman and mentioned the "vision of a great Canada which was also firmly linked with loyalty to the British crown and commonwealth."

VICTORIA, June 27— (CP) — Premier John Hart of British Columbia today declared when advised of the death of Viscount Bennett that "Canada has lost one of its great leaders."

"He was a man who made a great contribution to the development of this country. . .While there may not have been complete accord with his policies, British Columbia always received sympathetic consideration of its problems. His passing is an occasion for profound regret. . ."

Paper Companies' "Evasions" Rapped

WASHINGTON, June 27—(AP)—Rep. Cecil King (Dem. - Calif.) said yesterday that Congress will get "tough" if large newsprint corporations "choose to hide behind the flag of Canada or any other country".

King told the House of Representatives the International Paper Company has refused to furnish to a federal grand jury the records of two of its subsidiaries, the Canadian Paper Company and the Paper Sales Company, on the claim they are Canadian companies outside the jurisdiction of United States authorities.

"The case is clearly one of a cartel which is dodging its responsibilities to its native country by a series of incorporations in Canada," he said. "But I say, too, that if this is to be a pattern of international cartel and monopoly to exist in the United States—then it is time that the Congress act—and act fast!"

Between U.S. and Alaska

Canada Maintaining Vital Military Link

By Clyde Blackburn

WASHINGTON, June 27—(CP)—The House of Representatives' foreign affairs committee was told yesterday that Canada, at her own expense, is maintaining "a vital military connecting link between the United States and Alaska."

MAJ.-GEN. Guy V. Henry, senior United States army member of the Canadian - American Permanent Joint Defence Board, gave this evidence in supporting the proposed Inter-American Military Co-operation Act.

"Military opinion in the United States and Canada is that in any future war one of the major and early objectives of any enemy will be an air attack against the vital industrial areas of these two countries . . . ," he said.

"General standardization of arms, material, tactical doctrine, organization and training will be required before the armed forces of the United States and Canada can operate quickly and effectively against such attacks."

THE "NORTHWEST Staging Route" of airports, communications and highway between Edmonton and Fairbanks was cited as an example of co-operation.

"The maintenance and control of this chain of air bases, landline communications and highway now is under control of the Canadian army and air force and is being maintained at Canadian expense as a vital military connecting link between the United States and Alaska," he said.

All equipment involved in these facilities came from the United States and the parts and replacements for maintenance must also come from this country.

LEGAL AUTHORITY for the transfer of such parts to Canada, and for the co-ordination of defence effort necessary for continental security, required legislation such as that proposed.

Three Nations Said Menace World Peace

By Robert Manning

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., June 27—(BUP)—The United States bluntly accused Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia today of using force against Greece and demanded that the United Nations Security Council use "the full weight of its authority" to halt them.

AMERICAN Delegate Warren R. Austin called for an early showdown with the three Balkan countries, claiming that they have been committing "the very kind of acts which the United Nations was designed to prevent."

World peace will be even more seriously threatened, Austin said, if "the acts. . .against Greece's independence should continue."

Austin said the acts of the three Balkan countries were as bad as "actual invasion by organized armies." He said the future of the UN may depend on how the case is settled.

Austin called on the council to adopt immediately all proposals made public this week by the UN Balkans Investigating Commission, including an American-originated proposal for a semi-permanent UN border patrol in the perennially troubled south-eastern corner of Europe.

AUSTIN MADE NO mention of a surprise move in which Greece formally charged her three northern neighbors with international aggression and confronted the council with its first complaint under the strongest chapter of the UN charter.

Austin asserted, however, that "any intelligent person in possession of the facts cannot fail to recognize the use of force here, no matter how devious the subterfuge."

"In modern times", he said, "there are many ways in which force can be used by one state against the territorial integrity of another.

"Invasion by organized armies is not the only means for developing an attack against a country's independence. Force is effectively used today through devious methods of infiltration, intimidation and subterfuge."

AUSTIN SAID the Balkans situation was a matter which "the Security Council must face squarely."

Representatives of the three accused governments, as well as the permanent UN delegate of Greece were accorded seats at the horseshoe table for the duration of a debate which is likely to take weeks and to plunge the council into a crucial struggle between Russia and the United States and Great Britain.

Austin said the report of the Balkans Commission, with its majority-supported charge that Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania were encouraging guerilla fighting within Greece, contained the suggestions for solving the problem.

Austin warned, however, that if peaceful settlement of the case is not possible the UN charter "also contemplates enforcement action when a situation becomes aggravated to a sufficient extent to warrant it."

Wetaskiwin Pension Case Before Commons

OTTAWA, June 27 — (CP) — The noted case of Jim Winters, the 105-year-old Wetaskiwin, Alta., man who was refused an old age pension, was raised in the Commons yesterday with Solon Low, Social Credit leader, attacking Edouard Rinfret (L-Montreal-Outremont) for citing it to back his argument that Alberta was the worst "Siberia of scarcity" for the aged among all the provinces.

RISING DURING consideration of the government's old age pensions bill, Mr. Low said Mr. Rinfret had used "fantastic" newspaper stories to back a "completely irresponsible" version of the case.

Mr. Low said Mr. Winters could have bought a government annuity that would have given him $539 a year for life from the proceeds of the sale of his farm in 1944. The pensions administration was compelled by the regulations to take into account the fact that he could have bought an annuity in considering whether he should get a pension. Since the amount of annual income allowed was $450 he could not be given a pension.

The Social Credit leader added Mr. Rinfret had also wrongly said that the farm sale had been made 45 years ago. More responsible remarks should be expected from a man learned in the law.

HE ALSO WAS in error in suggesting that the Social Credit group had lowered its pension demands.

Mr. Rinfret said Mr. Low had proved that a man of 105 was not getting any pension from Alberta. He could not see anybody of 105 investing his money in annuities.

Mr. Winters had exhausted his funds and would have to depend on charity. The government should be glad to pay its share of a pension for him.

Lord Bennett

without Butler John Epps being nearby.

Last night he decided not to bathe, fatigued by an evening stroll and Epps retired.

Later Lord Bennett apparently changed his mind and suffered a heart attack in the hot water.

Lord Beaverbrook was immediately summoned and it was he who made the routine report to the police because the death was unattended.

Born Richard Bedford Bennett in Hopewell Hill, N.B., he became the first Viscount Bennett of Mickleham, Surrey, and of Calgary and Hopewell, in the King's birthday honors list of June 12, 1941. He had made his home here since 1939, after he retired from the Canadian political field.

Lord Bennett's choice of Calgary in his title reflected his long-continued interest in Western Canada. As a youth he went west to practice law and was elected to the Northwest Territorial Legislature in 1898 from Calgary. Later he was a member of the Alberta Legislature and in 1911 he was sent to Ottawa.

COINCIDENTAL with his parliamentary career, he pursued a successful career as a financier and corporation lawyer. In 1927 the Conservative opposition elected him leader and in 1930 he led the party to victory in the general elections, winning 137 of the 245 House of Commons seats.

A strong supporter of Empire preferences, he held fast for British preference for Canadian goods at the Imperial Economic Conference in 1930. The conference adjourned without taking action but Lord Bennett won his point at the Ottawa Imperial Conference in 1932.

Newspaper men got little information at the Bennett home today as to the former stateman's death but it was understood from his friends that he died in his bath. Burial likely will be in Mickleham churchyard near Dorking.

ALTHOUGH RETIRED from Canadian politics, Lord Bennett was busy in Britain. High among his interests in the United Kingdom was his work as chairman of the London Advisory Committee of the Canadian Red Cross, where Col. R. W. Frost, overseas commissioner, termed him of the "greatest help with his advice and guidance."

"He was with us right up to yesterday and I spent last evening with him," said Frost. "It is a great shock to me. I owe him much."

Lord Bennett never pretended to be anything but Canadian although he became a part of English city and country life during his eight years here and he was a noted speaker in the Lords.

In the United Kingdom, as well as in Canada, he was remembered for his work as prime minister during the depression of the 30's when world trade collapsed and drought ruined western farms.

During those difficult years he worked day and night, spoke with vigor and acted with determination. He was both criticized and praised for his vigorous personal efforts and in 1935 he led a furious election campaign only to be defeated by the Liberal party under Mackenzie King.

Today, the staff at the Bennett residence on Juniper Hill answered the telephone emotionally.

"WE CAN ONLY confirm," said the butler. "Lord Bennett died last night and all other information must come from the executors."

In view of Lord Bennett's sudden death a normal police inquiry will be conducted.

The body was found by John Epps, Lord Bennett's butler, and the stateman's inseparable companion, a small terrier, was nearby.

When he returned from a stroll last evening Lord Bennett commented on the intense heat and told Epps he felt too tired to take a bath. He changed his mind later and it was believed he suffered a heart attack while in the tub. The light was on in his bedroom when Epps went to call him this morning.

Lord Bennett's affection for the Surrey countryside where he lived was indicated last month when it was disclosed that he was the anonymous donor who four years ago gave £10,000 ($40,000) to purchase the site of Guildford's new cathedral. A chapel in the cathedral will mark the association between the diocese and Canada and the gratitude of the people of Surrey to the help Canadians have given in the wars.

LONDON ASSOCIATES said that Lord Bennett had been with them discussing business affairs within the last few days. But only two days ago he did not appear in person when a new Canadian hospital in Britain was dedicated. Pleading ill-health, he sent a telegram of greetings.

Friends of the former Canadian statesman said they understood he had been resting alone at the time of his death but they had no details. They said the body remained at his Juniper Hill residence and plans for his funeral would be discussed later today.

Throughout this district, where he had made his home for eight years, there was sadness. The "squire of Juniper Hill" was known as a kindly Canadian whose interest in local affairs never was dimmed by his arduous wartime tasks for the Red Cross in London, his numerous speeches in Commonwealth and Empire causes and his faithful attendance of the House of Lords.

As when he was prime minister, Lord Bennett in England never ceased to think and work for the development of the Commonwealth. In one of his last speeches in May he said there were powerful factors at work which did not make for unity and the issue was the "life or death of the Commonwealth."

HE SUGGESTED separate policies were developing among Commonwealth countries and he reminded his audience that there had not been an imperial conference for some time.

Lord Bennett's last public appearance was at a Bank of Nova Scotia reception last Thursday.

Only a few weeks ago he was re-elected president of the Royal Society of Arts.

One of the first to be informed of the death of Lord Bennett was his old friend and fellow New Brunswicker, Lord Beaverbrook. It is understood the noted press peer is assisting in the funeral arrangements. Burial is planned for Mickleham cemetery at 5 p.m. Monday.

Lord Bennett's career was a classic success story. Son of a Maritime shipbuilding family, he put himself through law school at Dalhousie University, Halifax, practised in the pioneer North West Territories, sat in the early western governments and attained wealth.

CALGARY, HIS western hometown, is filled with Bennett legends—of his business sense, skill in court and generosity—and of the first and only time he drove an automobile. It attempted to climb a lamp-post and the statesman quit driving.

All his life he retained his memory for faces and facts and reporters who had not seen him for years found he remembered their careers.

He was always surrounded by friends who cherished his advice. His copious memory had stores of entertainment—of pioneer days, politics, legal incidents, British associations. He gave away fortunes and chose to spend much of the war in bomb-battered and austere London.

"This island and its people have saved Christian civilization," he said once and it was his pride to see history made as Britain battled Hitler.

LORD BENNETT, who used to listen from his Calgary hotel-suite home to the bells he donated to a Calgary church, was known affectionately here as a friend of the Little Village Church of Micklehan.

Rev. R. M. Langdale-Smith, rector of Mickleham and a close friend, said:

"He will be much missed in the village. He did so much good. He was always ready to help but it was not so much what he gave as what he was. The villagers and his servants have been shaken by his death."

Lord Bennett's gardner, known to guests as "Twin," said reverently:

"Lord Bennett was a man who read his bible."

The people of the district echoed the vicar's and the gardener's tributes.

LADY JEANS, wife of Astronomer Sir James Jeans, another neighbor, will play the organ at the service next Monday in the church in which the former prime minister of Canada frequently read the lesson.

His last walk, last evening, was in the well-loved lanes and gardens between Juniper Hill and the church, known and loved, too, by thousands of Canadian troops billeted in this area during the war and to whom he often played host.

Uncle of Minister Killed in Mine

Word was received in the city Friday morning of the accidental death in a Butte, Montana mine of Charles Ansley, uncle of Hon. R. Earl Ansley, minister of education.

Details as to how Mr. Ansley met his death are not yet available, but the minister, and members of the family were to leave Friday evening to attend the funeral, expected to be held Monday.

Born in Ontario, the late Mr. Ansley came west with his parents at an early age and was educated at Strome, where his family homesteaded. He served in the First Great War with the Canadian forces.

Flying Discs

he, too, saw nine speeding objects, moving west high in the sky. They were going fast and he could not make out their shape. However, he reported engine sound and vapor trails.

A Bremerton, Wash., housewife—west across the Cascade mountains from where Arnold saw his objects—said that twice in the last 10 days she had seen "platter-like" light-reflecting objects.

AT EUGENE, ORE., enlargements of photographs taken by E. H. Sprinkle of Eugene, who said he snapped a $3.50 camera from a hill in Eugene, June 18, at "flying objects" similar to those first reported over Washington state a week later, revealed seven "V" or "X" shaped dots in the sky in what could be a military formation.

The dots are too small to show up on ordinary news print, but are visible on a glossy finish 8x10 print. Under an ordinary microscope they show a similar shape.

Sprinkle said he could not estimate the speed of the objects that he saw at Eugene and that he only got a fleeting glimpse of them.

AGAINST THESE supporting observations, skeptics sought explanations. Capt. Al Smith, United Air Lines pilot on the Seattle run, said he thought Arnold saw reflections of his instrument panel.

Dr. J. Hugh Pruett, University of Oregon meteorologist, said that "persistent vision," often noted after looking at bright objects such as the sun, could have kept such reflections before him after they had passed.

To Shoot Movie at High River

Buy 11,000 Train Tickets In Order to Move Baggage

CALGARY, June 27—(CP)—The Duke of Windsor has consented to the use of his ranch near High River as the site for filming the $2,000,000 movie, "Rainbow Ridge," Ivan Stauffer, executive assistant of producer Albert S. Rogell, announced here yesterday.

FURNISHINGS AT THE DUKE'S RANCH home will remain unchanged but considerable sums will be spent in building accommodation for the crew and cast, he said. Bunkhouses, stores, canteens and cookhouses will be erected at the setting. Most of the buildings will be of sturdy construction and will be left on the ranch when the movie is completed.

James Craig is co-starring with Joan Leslie in the Eagle-Lion film. Jack Oakie was signed up as a member of the cast Wednesday.

Most of the 103 technicians and staff engaged to work on the picture will be in Calgary next week.

To speed up production all the cast and crew will arrive by plane. The 11,000 passenger tickets purchased in order to speed the equipment to Alberta by baggage car will not be used.

Cameras, sound effects, electrical equipment and special effects are being rushed to Calgary by baggage car as a means of averting possible delay by express shipment. The only way such prompt transportation could be secured was to purchase passenger tickets to cover the baggage—11,000 in all.

Cabinet May Talk Probable Action

The Alberta provincial cabinet at a council meeting Friday afternoon will probably discuss what action will be taken in the event that the Privy Council in London declares the Alberta Bill of Rights to be ultra vires, as is predicted.

The law lords in London terminated the hearings on the case at the conclusion of Alberta's presentation, made by Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney-general, and did not call upon the legal representatives of the Dominion government, nor the banks, for their side of the case.

Premier Ernest Manning, asked for a comment, Friday deferred any statement until he had time to study the situation and discuss it with his cabinet.

Show-Down

The United Nations organization was two years old on Thursday. The anniversary was marked by an incident that is bound to have historic meaning. It could lead to an explosion that would wreck the whole structure and leave the Charter an empty shell of words. If it does not lead to that, it will lift the authority of the organization to a higher level than it has ever before been admitted to hold.

Wednesday evening the United Nations Balkan Commission ordered a sub-commission to cross the border of Bulgaria in face of opposition by the government of that country. The Russian representative on the Commission protested the order and backed Bulgaria in refusing entry to the investigators. But the Commission over-ruled his protest and told the sub-commission to go ahead.

This brings matters to a show-down. The authority of the United Nations has been declared—and challenged. Somebody is going to have to back down. The initiative rests with Bulgaria—that is to say, with Moscow.

If the sub-committee is prevented carrying out the investigation in Bulgaria, the international organization will face sheer and successful defiance. If the sub-commission carries out the order, the point will be established that when the United Nations orders an ivestigation into a threatening situation no country can "veto" that order.

It May Be

A farmer in the Wetaskiwin district was hailed into court because he refused to destroy weeds on his land, as ordered to do by the Municipal Agricultural Service Board. The case was dismissed, but only on technical grounds. The farmer, it seems, had not been given proper chance to defend himself. But in ruling against the municipality for this reason, Mr. Justice O'Connor agreed that such legislation is necessary for the protection of the community at large.

At that, the Agricultural Service Board is one up on Edmonton city councils, past and present. If any of these have ever tried to make the owners of city property keep their places clear of weeds, it must have happened so long ago that time has obscured the record.

Our councils, in fact, did not and do not even make any serious attempt to kill weeds on the boulevards and in other public places. This no doubt argues a certain kind of consistency in ignoring the weed patches maintained by private parties. A council would have a poor case in trying to penalize a private citizen for following its own example and letting this kind of vegetation flourish.

Perhaps, since the authorities of rural municipalities are at least trying to fight the weed menace, Edmonton's council may be induced or shamed into following their lead. Perhaps.

A Great Canadian Gone

In all parts of Canada and among people of all shades of political thought there is genuine regret today at the news that comes from London announcing the death of Viscount Bennett.

A truly great Canadian has gone, after a long life in which he won distinction in every field to which he devoted his attention. Mr. Bennett was a man of many parts, forceful and brilliant always and in every role. He was a tireless student, a great lawyer, a successful man of business, deeply religious and active in works of charity and welfare.

In political life Mr. Bennett served in the legislature of Alberta and the parliament of Canada, was a member of three Dominion cabinets, and Prime Minister from 1930 to 1935. He retired from politics in 1938, went to live in England, and was raised to the peerage in 1941.

His career is an inspiration to young Canadians, and a striking proof of how far diligence coupled with ability can carry a man in this young and growing country. To Albertans he will of course be remembered as "R. B.", for he was so well known among us that the initials were a common substitute for his name. It is in this province, so long his home, that his passing awakens the most vivid memories and brings a peculiar twinge.

They Need Help Now

A person whom sickness or accident has left unable to earn a living is none the less helpless whatever his or her age may be. To refuse eligibility for an old age pension to such a man or woman because he or she has not yet reached three score and ten is cruel, and without justification unless some special provision for such cases is made. Such general provision has not yet been made. It is in accord with simple justice therefore that pensions should be made available to people of this class, where compensation claims or public assistance does not already assure them a livelihood.

Cases of this kind should be taken care of when a system of national health insurance is established. But provision for the unfortunate in the meantime should be made without delay. The intimation of Hon. Paul Martin that they may be made eligible for old age pensions will be welcomed by the public. It is to be hoped this extension of the scope of the pension plan will be made at the present session of parliament. That should have been done long ago.

Why Should He Stay Away?

Moscow hailed Secretary Marshall's proposal to finance the restoration of European countries as being a camouflaged move on the part of Washington to coax the assisted nations into a United States "orbit." The help offered was "bait" to lead them into a position of dependence. In swallowing the bait they would commit themselves to dominance from Washington—presumably a domination hostile to Russia.

But Mr. Molotov is to join Premier Ramadier and Mr. Bevin in studying the proposal. There is nothing inconsistent in this on his part. He committed himself to nothing in accepting the invitation. He goes to Paris only as an inquirer, without obligation to participate in the proposed distribution or to assist in telling the United States where and in what measure the proposed help should be given.

Mr. Molotov is entirely free to repudiate the whole project, or to raise blocking objections as Mr. Gromyko does on numerous occasions in the Security Council. It will not be strange if in the end he "vetoes" the plan so far as Russia is concerned. That would be quite in accord with Moscow's already expressed view that Mr. Marshall is dangling bait before the distressed peoples in order to draw them into political bondage.

But neither is the Soviet foreign minister bound to oppose the scheme. He is quite as likely to do the contrary. For it is evident that, whatever Russia may do, the countries in western and southern Europe will gladly accept the offer. And if these countries are to get financial assistance why should Russia refuse to get in on the distribution?

It is not hard to get a boy to go to a picnic when the neighbor boys are going. If they are to have a free feed why should he stand out?

Toronto Star explains that "darned" is a perversion of "damned," and consequently should never be used in polite conversation. So never tell your wife that your darned socks are hurting your feet.

Consumer Safety

BY CHESTER BLOOM

Ottawa: Few Canadians probably have any real conception of the vast amount of governmental supervision that goes into the protection of their food and medicines. The pharmaceutical laboratories of the Department of National Health and Welfare, for example, have definite Canadian specifications for some 66 drugs. Where there are no Canadian standards set, drugs must come up to the specification of the British and U.S. pharmacopeias or others.

The food and drugs division, for example, maintains one of the largest rat colonies in the country, for testing digitalis, epinephrine, pituitary extract, organic arsenical preparations and certain other drugs. The laboratory maintains close liaison with the scientists revising the British and U.S. pharmacopeia which are huge medical dictionaries describing all the drugs, dosages, and their effects as used in civilized medicine.

* * *

SOME INTERESTING details of this work were given recently by Hon. Paul Martin, minister of National Health and Welfare, to Canadian drug and medical manufacturers here at Ottawa. Mr. Martin especially stressed that the objective of the department was to interfere as little as possible with commercial medicine except insofar as protection of the public health demands.

For example, cosmetics which have never been supervised in Canada, are shortly to come under regulatory provisions of the act. The great bulk of cosmetics marketed by reputable manufacturers, Mr. Martin emphasized, are free from harmful ingredients. But some contain objectionable ingredients and some substances potentially harmful as in some hair dyes. One objective of the cosmetic regulations will be to see that the labelling and advertising is at least truthful and free from misleading and grossly exaggerated claims.

* * *

MR. MARTIN said he thought the manufacturers would agree that there was no justification for claims inferred in such descriptions as "Crow's Foot Cream," "Nourishing Cream," "Deep Pore Cream" and Hair Color Restorer, just to cite a few. In this connection, the food and drugs division of the department is working on a guide to manufacturers and advertisers. This code will indicate to anyone what terms and expressions are acceptable in drug and related advertising to protect the public against exaggeration and misrepresentation, "wilful or otherwise." Hon Mr. Martin stressed the point that the department and manufacturers have always co-operated and that this co-operation will continue.

The wide extent of the work of the government's pharmaceutical laboratory may be illustrated by a few facts. It deals with the chemical analysis of drugs; organic chemistry which treats of alkaloidal and narcotic drugs; cosmetic with spectrographic work and related problems, pharmacology and toxicology which carries out the biological assay work with drugs.

In addition, the federal laboratories carry on intensive studies in vitamins and nutrition. Specialists test all market products advertised to contain vitamins, minerals and some of the other ingredients, analyze samples of such pharmaceuticals to determine whether they comply with the labels. Recently protein hydrolysates and amino acid mixtures recommended for the treatment of various clinical disorders have been added to this laboratory control.

* * *

TESTS ARE conducted of sample preparations containing alkaloids of hospitals anaesthetic ether, and the genuineness of essential oils. Imports of drugs and medicines are inspected and sampled at ports of entry and inadequate material is prohibited entry. Proprietary of patent medicines sold under trade names covering secret manufacturing formulae must be sold under annual license with each preparation having a registration number. The manufacturer is required to give the name and quality of each ingredient and the department determines if the formula is appropriate for the conditions specified. The information is printed on the labels and wrappers and the advertising is constantly reviewed. Millions of dollars are spent every year for these products. Only those found safe are permitted to go on sale

Contrast in Policy

BY FRANK B. WALKER

London: The same newspapers which carried the story of Mr. Marshall's broad and generous offer to Europe carried reports from Eastern Europe of new incidents in Hungary, Austria and Bulgaria.

The contrast in policy becomes more acute when the American proposals for aid to Europe, based on Europe's own estimate of her requirements, are compared with the devious and repetitive performances which have gone on in the eastern nations since the end of the war.

* * *

IN HUNGARY the process of liquidating the opposition has been carried a step further with the resignation of Dr. Nagy. In Bulgaria the leader of the Bulgarian opposition is under arrest. In Poland six members of the Polish Socialist party have been jailed. In Czechoslovakia the Communist premier has begun the campaign of abuse which is the normal prelude to more direct action. In Austria a similar situation appears to be developing, while in Rumania further restrictions have been imposed upon what remnants of opposition remain in that country.

The pattern is familiar, appallingly so, and Mr. Hector McNeil, Britain's secretary of state, was more truthful than politic when he told the House of Commons: "I cannot deny that this political crisis — he was referring to Hungary — has been solved with great speed and great thoroughness. That was a facility which Hitler displayed."

The Soviet Monitor has been busy giving out the "other side" of the story. It quotes the Hungarian ministry of internal affairs and talks of "the policy of the conspirators" and "secret correspondence." The word democracy is bandied around and Mr. Nagy is charged with having "seized all power" in his own party.

Mr. Georgi Dimitroff, prime minister of Bulgaria, explained Mr. Petrov's arrest in another long interview. Whatever the facts may be, they are not coming out except in so badly shaded a form as to make them obviously untrue. It is becoming clear that Communist consolidation in eastern Europe is progressing to the point where opposition will be almost entirely ruled out.

* * *

WHERE THIS westward march of Communism will be stopped depends to a large extent upon the speed of recovery in Western Europe and this, in turn, depends largely upon assistance from North America.

The danger in Europe today, as the Manchester Guardian pointed out in a recent editorial, is not "war — at least not yet — but civil war." In Eastern Europe that danger has been overcome by reducing the opposition to impotence under the shadow of the Red Army. But in Western Europe the contest is still unresolved. Communism is strong but not strong enough and the Soviet Union is near but not near enough.

With every delay in the recovery of these countries, however, Communism is strengthened and demacrocy weakened. It is a one-sided fight because the methods open to the extreme left are not open to its opposition, nor is that opposition united.

* * *

THE FOREIGN ministers meet again in November. Between now and then Europe faces a difficult period of continued food shortage and an ever increasing shortage of dollars. Eastern Europe can probably be written off but Western Europe can be saved if, again as the Manchester Guardian pointed out, everything is done to avoid a situation in which "the parties in France and in Italy can only resolve their difficulties by resort to arms."

"So long as the iron curtain is a geographical line something can be done, for we are used to geographical divisions of this kind. But once it becomes a political line within each country disaster is very near."

Mr. Marshall's offer can only materialize in the future. The present difficulty will not be met by it but they will, at any rate, be partially offset if only it can be made known to the peoples of Western Europe that aid is forthcoming and on a scale to meet requirements.

Smiles

"What's that piece of string tied round your finger for, Bill."

"That's a knot. Forget-me-not is a flower. With flour you make bread, and with bread you have cheese. This is to remind me to buy some pickled onions.

Smith was in his den with a few of his friends talking about his wife and her peculiarities.

"I have thought for some time", he said, "that my wife is utterly devoid of taste, but the other day she put on a new dress which was atrocious beyond words. I daren't of course, say a word about it, and dared hardly look at it, but as she went out I went to the window to have another look at her and——"

At this juncture his wife entered suddenly.

"And the funniest part of the whole affair," continued Smith, without showing the least embarrasement, "was that they found the cat eleven days later on the top of the Eiffel Tower!"

And Mrs. Smith still does not understand what there was in that ridiculous statement to make them all laugh so uproariously.

How many times shall I bow, said the novice entertainer at the battalion variety show.

"Bow," said the stage manager. "No bowing for you, mate, you'll have to duck."

"I beg your pardon, ma'am," said the newly arrived Irish maid to the officer's wife, "but is it Colonel or Major I should be calling the Captain."

INTEREST-FREE MONEY

Editor, Bulletin: We all want more money for the pensioners. We are willing to contribute to help them but are unwilling contributors to the banks by paying taxes which are used to pay illegal interest to the banks and loan concerns which have the government in their financial grips.

We need an interest-free money system such as God designed for us to follow.

EXPORT OR IMMIGRANTS

Editor, Bulletin: May I be allowed to emphatically disagree with the remarks of the president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Banff recently, if he was correctly reported as saying that "it simply must be realized that employment in Canada is wrapped up in foreign trade."

Canada suffers today from too much foreign trade, and not enough internal use of her own resources. In her present sparsely populated state she is a menace to world peace, and should immediately open her doors wide to very carefully selected immigrants, who should be encouraged to come and help to develop and use our wonderful resources.

Unfortunately far too many of our resources are owned by aliens, whose only aim is profit: they have no interest in either conservation or in populating the country with the right type of settler. We need leaders today of the highest integrity and vision.

Freedom Threatened?

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

Here is a pointed letter from a reader in the United States:

"Are you just a well wisher of Russia in her own internal affairs as I am; or are you willing to stand by unconcerned while Communists take over one by one the countries of the world, pull down the 'iron curtain,' extinguish, for as far into the future as we can peer, the light of freedom of speech, press, and court? Are you willing to see the basic human freedoms taken away and men left without even the right to protest?

PHILPOTT

"My right to be a Conservative is just as dear to me as your right to be a Liberal or radical or whatever you are—and I would not deprive you of your right or stand idly by while others did it to you.

"Now then, will you do the same for me?"

* * *

THE ANSWER to the last is "certainly."

I believe in democracy with all my heart and soul—have spent my whole life either fighting for it actually physically, as a Canadian soldier, or by the written or spoken word.

I believe the United States could line up the whole democratic world in a union mutually to maintain democracy wherever it already actually exists—as defined by my American friend.

But let us not fool ourselves—where are these democracies?

If you held up one hand to represent the peoples of all the world your little finger would accurately represent the correct ratio of those who have "democracy" (even as marred by white supremacy).

I would class as Western-style democracies the following: Finland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, Britain, Ireland, France, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa.

Beyond Mexico and Cuba I hesitate to include many of the Latin American "republics." I exclude Italy and Japan—still occupied.

* * *

NOW ASSUME—for the sake of argument, and it is a very flimsy one—that "Communists are out to take over all countries of the world," and would "extinguish the light of freedom."

Of course I am for taking all possible steps, both internally and internationally, to see that such is never allowed to happen—that we go after more freedom, not lose what we have.

I favor out-and-out federation of the real "western democracies" provided it is based on a charter to maintain the freedom that actually exists. That is, the British and Scandinavians would be free to keep their kings, if they wanted them. They would also have to be free to go socialist or even Communist so long as they wanted to do that by lawful democratic process. Conversely, countries that had gone socialist would have to retain the right to go back to capitalism if they wanted to, or to go anarchist or Technocrat or Jehovah's Witness, or anything else they wanted to go—democratically.

* * *

BUT MY FRIEND'S hypothetical question has no relation to the facts of life.

There is only one Communist country in the world today and that is the Soviet Union. Communism came into power in Russia, not by replacing "democracy" but by overthrowing Czarist tyranny.

If it is true that some governments in Eastern Europe are "Communist dominated," so what? They were "Russian liberated." What the people have now in Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Albania is anything but complete democracy. But it is much nearer to that than anything those people had before.

The danger to which my American friend points would become a reality if Czechoslovakia were to be made a one-party state by force.

Czechoslovakia is the only such country which was a democracy before the war.

* * *

WE ARE SO BUSY complaining about what the Russians are doing in their tough way that we are blind to our own failures.

We are still protecting the Fascist dictatorship in Spain, where democracy was overthrown while the "democracies" not only refused to lift a finger to prevent it, but refused to sell arms whereby the Spanish people could defend themselves.

When we set our own world zone in order we will automatically end the imaginary "menace" about which my friend writes.

IMPROVEMENT TAX

Editor, Bulletin—Now that controls on goods and property are rapidly disappearing and governments are implementing reforms in taxes and pensions why not completely house clean wherever possible?

Why should a democratic country like Canada penalize its citizens who are willing to make property improvements? It is a general rule in Canada to assess land and buildings separately. Thus the man who builds on his property pays a penalty for doing so in increased taxation.

A land tax, with no additional tax on improvements, has proved satisfactory in Australia and New Zealand—why not here?

Profiteering on building lots has been a common practice in Canada. Edmonton has experienced several periods of this. Why should a few privileged individuals be allowed to buy up choice home sites during depression or war years, pay small taxes to hold them for a short period, and resell them to home-builders for several times their original cost?

Until legislation could be enacted to change our present system, our city could control these profiteers by only selling property when a guarantee is given by the purchaser, to construct buildings on the land purchased which would meet with the approval of the town planning commission.

PROTEST

Editor, Bulletin.—It is reported, reliably or not, that early in 1945 there was held in one of the country's largest cities a meeting whose outcome is now affecting every woman from coast to coast. This meeting, it seems, was sponsored by those persons who design, manufacture, promote and sell women's fashions. And its alleged purpose was to discover a sure way of getting women to buy new clothes, and to keep on buying new clothes, in the face of what was predicted to be a tremendous and possilby unequalled rise in living costs.

The result of this reported get-together would now apear to be only too apparent. Skirts have been lengthened a good three inches and are going still lower according to reports, as if to preclude all possibility of hems being let down the required amount by those ladies who are short on cash but long on ingenuity. Also apparent are the ways and means by which Canadian women are being informed that last year's styles just aren't being worn any more. Fashion magaines are filled with pictures of the new low hemline, newspapers are giving good space to the drastic change, fashion shows are being held at which gorgeous models sweep into the spotlight, all but sweeping the floor with their skirts at the same time. And outside this fashion furore, and completely apart from it, is the woman who wears the clothes and foots the bills, somewhat puzzled as to how and why this change came about (nobody asked her if she wanted skirts to be longer) and definitely concerned as to where the money for a complete new wardrobe is coming from with the cost of living climbing every day.

Well, what are we going to do about it? Bid a fond farewell to that smart little number we bought last year? Discard that stunning two-piecer which really does things for us? Make further demands on a pocketbook that's already flattened to a fadeaway by rising price of everything? I say, no. Come on gals, leave us not be pushed around. If we have some smart things left over from last year, not to mention a good pair of gams, let us wear the former and not take the latter out of circulation. Let's wear the kind of clothes we want to wear. I have no quarrel with those who like the longer skirts. Wear them by all means if you prefer them. But let's be individual and not make like a bunch of sheep. If we like shorter-skirts and have some perfectly good clothes right in our own closets, let's wear them and refuse to blindly follow a fashion we don't like and didn't ask for. What do you say? Who knows but we might help put a halt to that falling hemline.

STRAIN ON STUDENTS

Editor, Bulletin: Among the causes to which the rising ration of mental unfitness is ascribed, it seems to me that one at least has been overlooked. The omission relates to over-stimulation of our adolescents. We have been hearing in the past weeks a great deal about university class and matriculation examination papers, and the almost unanimous judgment is that these papers are purposely made too difficult for all but those with intellect, peculiarly adapted to cramming, the purpose being to place a check on the rapidly increasing university attendance.

That end may be a very desirable one; or it may be an absolute necessity, but there should be a better way than to thus risk the mental breakdown of hundreds of unoffending young people. I suggest that students going in for university courses should, upon announcing their intention, be subject to mental tests, possibly physical ones, too, with the purpose of ascertaining their probable ability to stand the inevitable strain. Such a course might result in a reduction in the number of BA's, but that result would not be an unmixed evil if accompanied by a corresponding diminution in the class of the mentally broken.

Oil Costs to Climb With Freight Rates

The increase of 30 per cent in freight rates sought by the railway companies, if granted, would increase the cost of oil products to the Alberta consumer by $900,000 annually, Frank G. Hall, Toronto, general sales manager, Imperial Oil Ltd., told the Board of Transport Commissioners Thursday at regional sittings of the board here.

HE INTIMATED that rate increase could not be absorbed by the oil companies, and would have to be passed on to consumer. He made this point in reply to a suggestion of the Canadian National Railways that the oil companies might be able to absorb freight rate increases.

Mr. Hall placed in evidence a chart showing that increase of from one-half cent to approximately two cents a gallon could be expected, depending on the distance from the Calgary refining centre. The increase to Edmonton consumers would be approximately one cent and to consumers in the Peace River districts approximately two cents.

UNTIL GENERAL traffic rates on commodities other than coal are increased more than 30 per cent on the average, no increase on coal rates can be justified or claimed, it was submitted by the Domestic Coal Operators' Association of western Canada.

It was stated that the carriers, in asking for special rates on coal, appeared to recognize the right to have coal rates considered separately and apart from general commodity tariffs.

COAL AND COKE produce the railways' heaviest tonnage and pay more revenue for measure service than does the general run of miscellaneous traffic, it was stated.

"It is manifestly unfair to place upon the coal industry this burden of increased rates when it is already contributing more than general commodities, whose classifications are all higher, and where the ability to pay without distressing hardship is evident," it was claimed.

THE COAL BRIEF was presented by Jesse Houge, Drumheller, and V. A. Cooney, secretary of the organization.

J. J. Saucier, KC, president of the Calgary Board of Trade, appeared before the commissioners to register opposition on behalf of that city to the proposed rate increase. He said the board of trade endorsed the stand taken by the Alberta government, the brief presented by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations affiliated with the Board of Trade at Calgary.

The Alberta Dairymen's Association, in a brief presented by E. A Johnstone, Red Deer, chairman of the association's special transportation rate committee, stressed that bigger freight costs would be adverse and lasting deterrent to the normal development of Alberta and its industries.

IT WAS SUGGESTED that other services which the railways operate should be made to provide their proper proportions of any alleged shortage in the railways' over-all revenue accounts.

If, when the unfairness of present freight rates complained of in the association's brief have been eliminated and all possible has been done to effect savings to increase net revenues, the association would accept an over-all increase in rates, the brief stated.

Complaint was made that the present freight rates were unfair to Alberta, and it was estimated that the 30 per cent proposed increase would cost the dairy industry approximately $375,000.

CONCLUDING the submission it was stated that the dairy industry "wishes to register the strongest protest within its power at the exorbitant, unfair, and discriminatory freight rates in effect, and against the proposed increase"

Southern Alberta Sheep Breeders, Ltd., through its secretary-treasurer, W. S. Benson, submitted that freight rates on wool already were too high. Increases, he said, might result in the big bulk of wool produced on the prairie provinces moving to the mills by truck, and to the consumer in the same way. It might also result in the establishment of a woollen processing industry in Western Canada to avoid part of the rail haul.

A brief on behalf of the Labor-Progressive Party, presented by Ben Swankey, provincial leader, opposed the granting of the freight rate increase asked for and urged that action be instituted leading to the removal of the present discriminatory freight rates prevailing in the west.

Phil Baker, Lethbridge, president of the Alberta Sugar Beet Growers, told the board that the increase in rates would cost the sugar industry in this province $550,000, and that this added cost would be most detrimental to the maintenance of the sugar supply of western Canada.

Happy Gang Guests At Rotary Lunch

The Happy Gang were guests at a Rotary Club luncheon in the Macdonald hotel Thursday. Bert Pearl, master of ceremonies, introduced the individual members of the gang and gave a brief sketch of their trip as far as Edmonton.

Bert Hollingshead presided at his last meeting as president of the club, and gave a report of the last year's activities.

There were 30 boys attending two-week youth service camps, he said, on behalf of Rotary, and 44 boys were signed as members into the YMCA.

"Donations by the club were many," he said. They went to the community chest, Greek Relief Campaign, Edmonton United Campaign, and others.

"Christmas cheer was most successful," he said, with members donating $1,282.

The vocational service committee held three meetings, and the internal service committee had four speakers during four programs.

New membership totalled 29, he stated. There were 14 terminations, which leaves the membership at 191. Attendance was over 80 per cent.

Frank King, president for the ensuing year, thanked Mr. Hollingshead on behalf of the club for his work as president. Gordon Henry presented Mr. Hollingshead with the past-president's button.

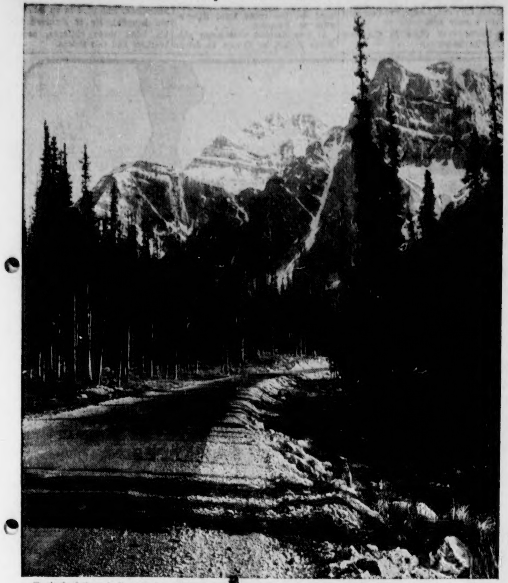
Jasper Park A Foremost Magnet

Jasper Park Contains Many Scenic Beauties



Typical of the winding roads and the scenic grandeur of Jasper National Park, the above scene and hundreds of similar views will be seen by thousands of tourists from all over North America this year. Only the roads, slashed through the unspoiled forest indicate the presence of man.

Attracts Vacationists From Distant Points

With the iridescent charm of a priceless gem, Jasper National Park, nursed in nature's opulence with mountains, mirror-glistening lakes, falls and green forests, has become one of the world's foremost magnets, drawing to its irresistible beauty vacationists from all parts of the world.

Alberta, already favored bounteously with great riches inleading resources, is blessed one-thousandfold with the presence in the province of this unparalleled section of the Canadian Rockies.

Expert travellers say that the only place on earth even remotely approaching its beauty are the Tyrolean Alps in Switzerland. Action of Hollywood last year in producing "Emperor Waltz" featuring Bing Crosby and Joan Fontaine with the Park as the background confirmed its scenic value.

As one film official put it, "Jasper is more like the Alps than the Alps themselves."

NOTED FOR ITS associations with early exploration, Jasper National Park is also the largest of seven great areas set aside as national playgrounds in the mountains of Western Canada.

The park embrac.. an area of 4,200 square miles in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, and includes regions of unsurpassed alpine beauty into which as yet comparatively few visitors have penetrated.

A land of purple distances, of mighty cloud-kissed, snow-tipped peaks, deep canyons, rushing rivers and exquisite lakes it is also one of the great wild life sanctuaries of the continent.

Jasper's Latest Development

Tekarra Lodge Opens Officially on Saturday

Have you ever drawn a breath of air of the type and kind which set every fibre of your being atingle with renewed vigor and a sense of well being? That unforgettable experience awaits the uninitiated in the mountain beauty surrounding Tekarra Lodge situated at a junction of the Miette and Athabasca rivers, one half mile from the town of Jasper.

WITH THE MAGNIFICENCE of scenery and surroundings unexcelled anywhere in the world, Tekarra Lodge with 22 newly completed cabins accommodating from two to six persons, is the latest development in catering to the many thousands from almost all parts of the earth who annually flock to the Canadian paradise in the Rockies.

Well furnished, the cabins are fully equipped for housekeeping. Hot and cold running water, electric ranges and modern bathroom fixtures are part of the cedar-lined rustic log exterior lodges.

Adding a spice and tang to a vacationists memory of the mountain "retreat" are the open-stone fireplaces fitted in each cabin where, after a full day of fishing, bridle path riding, boating, golfing, swimming, or just "lolling" in the sun on velvet green encompassed by a blaze of glorious color, the tired holidayer may stretch and lazily dream as the tangy fragrance from crackling pine knots invades the senses and induces complete relaxation.

The Tekarra Lodge officially opens for the first time on Saturday, and several applications for accommodation have already been received by Mrs. Chrissie Carrothers, hostess of the lodge.

IT IS ANTICIPATED numerous holidayers from Edmonton will be going into the new scenic area by car since roads are in excellent condition. Many, too, will probably be leaving for the long week-end by Canadian National Railways, which run two fast trains daily from Edmonton to Jasper. Scheduled train times are from the city at 7:20 and 8:55 a.m., MST—an hour later in both cases than city fast time.

Wonderful days are to be spent in this new area of Canada's foremost vacation Elysium! For the young and the young of heart, there is not a spot in the world so conducive to romance.

Majestic snow-capped mountain splendor, caressed by lazy passing columbine and cumulus clouds. These things will be indelible in the spectators' memory.

And in addition a holiday spent at Tekarra carries with it the memory of a symphony—a symphony of some of the world's most glorious music, from the silver-throated songsters and nightbirds of the mountains!

Jasper Park Convention Centre

A convention centre, Jasper Park Lodge this year will serve many thousands in different organizations an expected all-time peak since the end of the war.

During the tour of Canada in 1939, the King and Queen stayed at the Lodge and enjoyed a day's outing before proceeding on their journey.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

One of the most accurate bidders in bridge is Charles J. Solomon of Philadelphia and this statement is substantiated by his record. At the present time he holds the world championship masters individual title, and also is one of the holders of the world championship masters pair title. It probably will be many years before we will find one player winning both of these titles in one year again.

Glancing at the bidding on today's hand you might well ask why Solomon, with the West cards, put in that silly four-heart bid, but he explained it very clearly. When a player opens with a forcing two-bid, he said, you know he has a game and probably a slam. He felt that his queen of clubs was going to be a key card, and he wanted to do something to throw South off the track. He had nothing to fear from the four-heart bid. If it were doubled, he would bid four spades.

Now we will see the declarer's predicament.

When the opening spade lead held, Solomon switched to the six of diamonds. Declarer won and led another round of diamonds, picking up the adverse trumps. A small club was led to dummy's king and a club returned. When East played low, declarer stopped to count the hand.

Solomon had shown up with two diamonds and a club. He was definitely marked for six spades, and the heart bid should mark him with four hearts. That would mean that he had held a singleton club, so declarer finessed the ten of clubs and lost his contract.

Solomon pointed out that declarer could have protected himself against the psychic heart bid by cashing the ace and king of hearts and leading a third round of hearts when he got into dummy, trumping in his own hand. Then when West showed out, he could have reasoned that West probably held the queen of clubs

Keeping Road Open Is Difficult Task

Flood waters, floating ice, 80-foot driftwood jams and a glacier, are among the difficulties that Army engineers have surmounted in keeping the Alaska Highway open to traffic during the spring thaw, it is revealed in a current report of Brigadier Geoffrey Walsh, CBE, DSO, commander of the Northwest Highway System.

After keeping the highway in good repair all winter, the crews were forced to make road closures at the Coal and Little Rancheria rivers for three and four days respectively, despite 24-hour vigils at all strategic locations. A heavy runoff of water bringing with it great quantities of ice, driftwood and muskeg, overwhelmed even safety culverts of large size installed especially for floods in normally dry stream beds.

Sappers of No. 1 Road Maintenance Company, RCE, built a pile trestle bridge 160 feet long, capable of taking 70-ton loads, in record time of four days to replace one which had been completely washed away. Most difficulty was encountered in the Muncho Lake to Swift River area where many timber bridges were damaged. Residents near the Liard River report that the stream on June 1 reached a point approximately 14 feet higher than has been seen in the last 10 years.

Edmonton Foundry Is Opened At Fine New South Side Premises

New Business Established By Three Partners Here

Specializing in brass and aluminum castings and equipped to supply all kinds of foundry work including patterns, the Edmonton Foundry opened for business this week in its new frame, stucco building at 10054 79 avenue.

Manager of the firm is Emil Wackershauser, who has spent all his life in the foundry business and has been foreman of a number of Edmonton shops. He is one of three partners, the other two being Hans K. Wackershauser, son of the manager and shop foreman, and Ian M. Young, secretary and shipper.

Plan Special Work

Longtime resident of Jasper Place at 9998 150 st., Mr. Wackershauser is confident that the outlook is excellent for the future of Edmonton industry.

In connection with the opening of the new concern, he said "we intend to do work in our foundry in Edmonton that has been going to bigger cities and even as far as the Pacific coast up to now. We know we can do this kind of work in our foundry—such as special brass and aluminum castings.

"We hold the keys to many foundry secrets and can put them to work in the service of our customers."

Son Is Partner

The manager's son has been associated with his father in work at other foundries for some years. He is a veteran of Canadian Army service in the Aleutians and Canada.

Resident of Jasper Place for the past 20 years, Mr. Young is a veteran of five years service with 413 squadron of the R.C.A.F. in Britain, India, Ceylon and the Maldive Islands.

Have Able Staff

Born in London, England, Mr. Paull served a seven-year apprenticeship as engineer's pattern maker in wood, metal and plastics. He was in the R.A.F. for seven years during the war, and spent 18 months at Penhold station near Red Deer.

On demobilization, he became chief pattern maker of the London, England, branch of Metal Box Company of Britain and the United States.

During his war service here, Mr. Paull married an Edmonton young woman and last February they returned here to live. He was very pleased to be able to resume his old trade with the new Edmonton Foundry.

Mr. Bordas has had some years' experience in his end of the business and has been a resident of Edmonton for the past two decades. Formerly of Winnipeg, Mr. Neill has resided in Edmonton since his discharge from the Royal Canadian Navy, in which he served for five and half years in many parts of the world.

Give 2nd Reading To Pensions Bill

(From The Journal's Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA.—Health Minister Martin got his old age pensions bill through second reading and into committee Wednesday evening after a riotous hour of debate during which he traded blows with members of all three opposition parties.

He accused the Progressive Conservative leader, John Bracken, of "calling up" Premier George Drew on the telephone to tell him that he had better increase the Ontario old age pension "as a result of Martin's bill."

When Mr. Bracken protested, declaring there had been no telephone conversation between himself and Col. Drew, Mr. Martin withdrew his remarks.

Mr. Martin said the measure added 60,000 new pensioners to the rolls, and placed Canada ahead of New Zealand, Australia and Great Britain in a more generous means test.

U.K.-Trained Man Is Pattern Maker

Edmonton Foundry, which opened for business this week in its new building at 10054 79 ave., is particularly proud of its ability to supply customers with patterns of all sorts made by an expert trained in the Old Country.

The pattern maker, Henry Paull, served a seven-year apprenticeship in England and came to Edmonton after completing his service with the R.A.F. He will be on hand at all times to confer with customers on their pattern problems and to produce the desired pattern.

50-Pound Car Built In Japan

OSAKA, Japan, (AP) — What may be the world's smallest automobile has appeared in Osaka.

The vest-pocket car weighs about 50 pounds. It accommodates one passenger. The car can reach a speed of 17 miles an hour on the 1½-horsepower engine.

The car was designed and manufactured at a cost of about $200 by Hiroshi Tamura, former president of Sankokai Heavy Industries company. He hopes to mass-produce the gnat-like vehicles for sale abroad.

Fully Equipped Foundry Ready For All Demands

Edmonton Foundry, a new addition to city industries, started operations this week in a new, $15,000 frame and stucco building, with a high truss roof, located just north of the C.P.R. shops.

The foundry shop, which is thus handy to rail transportation, is 40 by 80 feet with a 16 foot wall and additional air space for worker comfort provided by the height of the truss roof.

Large Capacity

The ground floor has a capacity for 18 moulding floors. Other equipment on the ground floor includes the core ovens, a brass and aluminum furnace, a grinding floor, pattern making room, and pouring floor.

The ground floor also has showers for the staff and the floor is of packed moulding sand to prevent sparks from dropping metal and ensure safe working conditions for the staff. The charging floor for the cubicle is on the second floor.

Plan Rail Feeder

When the necessary equipment becomes available, the foundry plans to install an overhead rail feeder system for transporting workings materials about the shop. However, present equipment is adequate for all sorts of foundry work.

Operations this week opened with a trial cast early in the week, and the work is now underway on a regular business basis.

Some aluminum castings for city machine shops already have been turned out. This is a branch of foundry work in which, together with brass castings, the Edmonton Foundry plans to specialize.

Special Alloys

Castings of special alloys can be supplied on demand by this wholly independent partnership concern.

Foundry officials stressed Friday that the plant is open for public inspection at any time during business hours.

They have ensured that a large stock of raw materials of all kinds is on hand in the materials yard, and that the stock is adequate for all demands.

The three partners plan to enlarge their staff as business requires.

Nearly 250 footpaths in Essex, England, "lost" in the wartime plow-more-land drive, are being restored.

Castings Specialty Brass, Aluminum

Brass and aluminum castings will be a specialty at the new Edmonton Foundry which opened this week in a large new structure three blocks south of Whyte avenue, just off 100 street.

In its first week of operation, the company already has turned out some examples of its specialty for Edmonton machine shops.

Strawberries and tourists are counted on to support a new airline operating in Lower California, Mexico.

Stott and Richard Swing to Net Final

Crucial Stages Reached in City Championships

Two favored net veterans, Johnny Stott and Dr. Hal Richard, both from Civil Service courts, smashed their way into the final of the men's open doubles last night, as the city tennis championships neared the critical stages.

Dr. Hal and Stott, regarded as one of the best doubles teams in the province, and who narrowly missed copping the major honors in men's doubles last year, eliminated Bill Logan and M. Watts in three straights, 6-1, 6-1, 6-3, in a semi-final match.

RICHARD AND his racket also will play an important role in the Mitchell Cup final, when he takes on Civil's Danny Caldecott for the cup.

All final matches of the seven tournament events will be played at the Glenora courts on Saturday afternoon.

In two other semi-final matches in the ladies' open singles, defending titlist Isobel Hooper, wearing the Garneau colors, ousted Civil's Helen Wolfe in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, and Bessie McAvoy, ace player of the Civil club, trounced Sophie Mighall, 6-1, 6-0. Miss Hooper and Miss McAvoy will now tangle for the city ladies' open crown.

Finals have been reached in The Bulletin Cup, Mitchell Cup, ladies' open singles and doubles. The remaining three semi matches will be played tonight, starting at 5:30.

MOST EXCITING match last night was in the ladies' doubles, in which Isobel Hooper combined with Irma McManus, to edge Miss McAvoy and Edna Kenwood, 2-6, 6-2 and 9-7, in a blistering match that was forced to go the limit.

After winning the first and losing the second set, Miss McAvoy and Miss Kenwood built up a decisive five-point lead in the final set. However, in an amazing rally the strong Garneau team evened the count, and finally went on to win 9-7.

Miss Mighall and Miss Wolfe advanced into the finals of the ladies' open doubles when they trimmed Miss C. Holmgren and P. Ingall, 7-5, 7-5. They will play Miss Hooper and Miss McManus for the title.

LES McMANUS and Harry Kinloch, teaming up in the men's doubles, advanced into the semi-finals when they downed Bob Cameron and Danny Caldecott, 6-4, 7-9, 6-4. They now take on O. Gray and Bill Mitchell tonight. The winner, will tackle the snappy Richard-Stott combination.

List of yesterday's results follows:

M.O.D — Stott-Richard def. Watts-Logan 6-1, 6-1, 6-3 (semi); McManus-Kinloch def. Cameron-Caldecott 6-4, 7-9, 6-4.

With an Eye on Wimbledon

Little Hugh Quinn, III, a Philadelphia three-year-old, already an accomplished tennis player, gets his instruction from professionals and his father, Hugh Quinn, Jr. Despite his tender years, Hugh is able to hold three balls in one hand, a feat for netmen with a huge paw, and can wham a two-fisted backhand shot with the determination of a Kramer or Riggs.

Grounds from Coffee Row

By Dick Beddoes

Wherever sportsmen gather along Coffee Row after an athletic show there is much discussion on how and why the cause was won or lost. The reasons for triumph are many . . . numbering among them ability, skill, luck, coaching and conditioning.

It has become conventional to consider a man or team with high ability a guarantee of success . . . and in a measure that is true.

However, we know how misleading that sometimes is. We have seen teams with mediocre ability suddenly set on fire by a new idea or urge. It gives them "emotional drive," which, like live steam, sends them on to championship conquests. And we have seen teams with high ability fail miserably.

THE INDISPENSIBLE ingredient? Psychologists may call it "emotional drive", but you and I know it as "enthusiasm". No test yet devised can accurately measure enthusiasm, any more than one can measure courage on a yardstick or beauty in a test tube.

Enthusiasm means loving the game and believing in yourself. It is the secret to success because it gives that final championship calibre to a team that has ability and skill. The difference in actual skill and ability between a team that succeeds and one that fails is neither wide nor striking. But when the chips are down between two equally balanced squads, the one which is enthusiastic will find the scales tipped in its favor.

Somehow, enthusiasm stacks up as the road map to success on the playing field.

THE PRODIGAL RETURNS: It will be atlas-apers on parade at Edson July 1, when the citizens of that fair town will be treated to a wrestling card. And they'll see, too, a local boy in the ring as referee—one Cecil "Tiger" Goldstick.

"Tiger" was born at Edson - - migrated to Edmonton when he was 14, knocked around as a "rassler" and mayhem maker in the last world hostilities, and rehabilitated himself as a handyman with several Edmonton hockey and baseball teams.

He keeps in shape by flexing a bicep now and then. The other evening at Renfrew he broke up a donnybrook between Don Lippincott, peppery Cub catcher, and "Rabbit" Garrett, Esks third sacker, just by way of staying in condition. Cece just naturally challenged the pair to duel — slingshots at 40 paces—but they weren't having any.

THREE DOT STUFF: "Toad" Garnett, former infield-outfield-backstop gent with "Chuck" Henderson's Eskimos, played third base for Dainty Cakes in a fastball tussle at Kingsway last evening. He hit a double, struck out, and flubbed one ground ball while choring for Sammy Sheckter's nine. Jim Hogan, lumbering par-buster from Jasper who fell by the wayside last week in the City Amateur, is on the look-see for a job.

TOM GREEN, president of the Edmonton Soccer Association, crowded onto a bus with us the other night . . . Sez Mr. Green, longtime exponent of the old country game, "Have a look at Glen Tosdevin, RAF centre half. He's as fine a player as we have in the senior league" . . . If he can match boots with such soccer friends as Bobby Graham of the North Side Legion, and South Side Legion's George Dempster, Mr. Green isn't far wrong. . .

SHADES OF BRAWN: Roddy MacDonald and Joe Trudeau continue to sharpen jabs and hooks for their lightheavyweight beak-bustin' date beneath the lights at Kingsway July 3. Final arrangements for the prelims were made yesterday, Hec Fillion signing to meet Gord Gray in a six-round welter go, and Dusty Rhodes agreeing to scrap Billy Smith in a four-round welterweight match.

MacDonald sizzled through 12 rounds at the Police Gym yesterday . . appeared to be tapering off his last week of preparation well.

Stubborn Putter in "Dog-House"

Meldrum Eliminates Gostick on 20th Hole

After every golf game, whether in the clubhouse or while sitting around the fireplace at home, players will invariably replay their matches and bemoan the fact that they could have saved a stroke here, or there if they had played a certain club, or had taken a little more time on their shots.

And it wouldn't be surprising if some day in the distant future Bill Gostick takes his grandchildren on his knee and relates the sad tale about how he putted his way out of the city amateur golf championship at the Mayfair course in the year 1947.

IN ANY CASE it will be a long long time before Bill forgets the tragedy of the 19th hole when he had two putts from 12 feet away to win his match against Jack Meldrum and climax a great comeback with victory.

Regarded as one of the best putters in the city, Bill needed three to get into the cup from that short distance, overshooting the hole four feet on his first and missing coming back. Then on the 20th Jack canned a 12-footer for a birdie three to advance into the semi-finals.

The other three semi-finalists were decided the day before and on Saturday afternoon Buddy Loftus will take on Henry Martell, the Dominion champ, and Meldrum will play Johnny Letke, the Country Club ace. The 36-hole final will take place on Sunday. Both Loftus and Meldrum are juniors.

MELDRUM MOVED into the lead on the second hole and boosted it to two on the third when Bill missed his pars, but Gostick's three on the fourth reduced the margin. Meldrum's par on the fifth was good enough for a win, but he dropped three holes in a row when he strayed from standard figures.

Gostick's four on the ninth squared the match and he took the 10th, 11th and 12th to forge into a comfortable lead. Gostick clipped one off on the 13th, they halved the 14th, and Bill got back into the game again when he took the 15th, 16th and 17th. Meldrum's four on the 18th squared the match and they started off on the extra holes, which proved disastrous for Bill.

Eagles and CVT Turn in Triumphs

With the letting up of the rains, for the time being, members of four of the six teams in the South Side men's intermediate fastball league resumed their torrid fastball competition last night, and proved to each other that none of their zing and skill was lost over the recent heavy down pour lay up.

Eagles Lodge, behind the outstanding two-hit tossing effort of "Strike-out" Cunningham, turned back the Prudham Lumber by a 9-1 count, and Canadian Vocational Training trimmed South Edmonton Business Men 4-1, in two league fixtures at South Side Athletic Grounds last night.

THE EAGLES-Prudham fixture was all even at 1-1 through to the fourth inning. Then Eagles' big bats came to life and tallied five markers. They added a singleton in the sixth, and two runs inn the seventh to register the victory.

Score by Innings:

Eagles Lodge	001 501 2—9	9	1
Prudham Lumber	001 000 0—1	2	3

Cunningham and Carnety; Weeks, Roy and Kirstein.

Ontario Golfers Hit Hot Streak

THORNHILL, Ont., June 27 —(CP)—Shooting a two-under-par 34 on each nine, little-regarded Jim Boeckh of the Toronto Lambton Club won the 18-hole qualifying round of the 25th Ontario amateur golf championship Thursday over the Toronto Thornhill course.

Only one stroke behind was the prominent favorite, Ontario open champion Nick Wisnock of Detroit, who, after shooting a 32 on the outgoing journey for the hottest nine-hole score of the day, slipped to a 37 on the back nine and an 18-hole total of 69.

Roeder Riding In Third Spot

Versatile Ray Humble Cuts Fancy Hit-Swath

Big Ray Humble, a husky giant in the regalia of Calgary Buffaloes, can claim today to be the most versatile ball shark in the Big Four Inter-City Baseball League. The story of Humble's prowess unfolds in the lastest statistics released by President Henry Roche.

The batting averages place the modest pitcher-outgardener in the van with a healthy .403 percentage. Big Ray has clouted safely 27 times in 67 trips with the hickory, and that gives him a 28-point margin over Alex Uffleman, Buff maestro, who is clipping along at a .375 pace.

Three weeks ago Humble paced the hit parade with .474, while Uffleman ranked fourth with .333.

HUMBLE LEADS the field in the RBI department, 18 Buffs having stampeded home through the courtesy of his base knocks. And just by way of proving his versatility, big Ray is tied for fifth spot among the leading pitchers. He has been credited with three wins as against two defeats in five starts on the hill.

Smoky Roeder, Eskimo outfielder, is high man among the Edmonton hitters in the bat race. His .328 average leaves him in third spot. Two Purity 99 swatters—Tony Maze and Joe Kanik—rank fourth and fifth with respective averages of .304 and .302. Kanik has surged ahead in the last three weeks, rising from a .261 mark on June 6.

Leading sticker for Arny Martin's tail-end Cubs is Don Lippincott. The fiery backstop is sporting a .286 mark, good enough for sixth place in the hit brigade.

BEEFY ALEX UFFLEMAN, a gentleman inclined to let everyone know his Buffs are the best nine in the league, is tied with three others—teammate Sheppard, and Gully and Noon of Purity—for the home run lead. They've all driven four blows out of the park for roundtrippers.

Kingpin in the hurling department is Purity's Joe Kanik. He has three wins and no defeats for a perfect percentage, but Esks' Eddie Belter has done the more workman-like job. Lefty Eddie is credited with 6 triumphs and a single setback. He leads the strike-out department, having whiffed 50.

The official figures below include games up to June 20, the ten played since that time not being considered in this list.

Breeze Into Fourth Round

Aussies Blazing Hot Trail at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 27 —(AP)— John Bromwich and Geoff Brown, both members of the Australian Davis Cup team, smashed their way into the fourth round of the Wimbledon tennis tourney Thursday with straight set victories.

Brown polished off Bob Meredith of Britain, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3, while Bromwich overwhelmed Bernard Destreman of France, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. The heat was so great that Brown stood flat-footed in one corner of the court and let the British player win the eighth game of the final set at love.

Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, seeded No. 1, easily defeated Gianni Cucelli of Italy, 6-0, 6-2, 6-0, to also advance to the fourth round.

THE AMERICAN was at his best in the second set although that was the only one in which he lost a game.

Jaroslaw Drobny, Czechoslovakia's ironman, didn't exert himself in defeating Poland's W. Sknoecki, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

Heat bothered all the players, but it did not hinder the crowd. The big stadium was jammed again with 54 matches on the program.

MRS. NANCY WYNN Bolton and Mrs. Nell Hopman of Austraila, defeated Mrs. Betty Carriss and Mrs. L. J. Osborne of Great Britain, 6-3, 7-5, to enter the third round of the women's doubles.

R. J. Ritchie and Joan Ingram of Great Britain, defeated Bill Robertson and Gloria Butler, both of the United States, in a mixed doubles match, 6-1, 6-2.

NAMED STARTER

WINNIPEG, June 27 — (CP) — George Dunn of Winnipeg left last night for Vancouver where he will be assistant starter to Clay Puett at Lansdowne Park.

Macken Upsets Quebec Champion

MONTREAL, June 27 —(CP)—Jimmy Macken of Montreal Thursday dropped champion Johnny Marois of Quebec from the provincial tennis championships in a two-hour match that saw the local player rally to win three sets in a row after dropping the first two.

Dealing a blow to Marois' hopes of making the Canadian Davis Cup team, Macken entered the semi-final round with his 3-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1 victory.

ALSO ENTERING the semi-final round was Don McDiarmid of Ottawa, who showed brilliant form in getting past Peter Young, former Cambridge University player now living in Montreal, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Promises Full Inquiry Into Boxer's Death

CLEVELAND, June 27 —(AP)—Declaring that he does not want "a cloud on Ohio boxing," Coroner Samuel R. Gerber Thursday promised a complete investigation of the death of Jimmy Doyle, 22-year-old Californian who never regained consciousness after being knocked out by welterweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson in the eighth round of a title fight at the arena here Tuesday night.

"A GREAT DEAL of unholy pressure has been put on me to divert this investigation," said Dr. Gerber. "I am going to make a complete investigation. I will talk to anyone who had anything to do with this."

Dr. Gerber did not elaborate on what he meant by pressure. The coroner opened his probe Wednesday night by questioning Robinson, his manager, George Gainford, and two other handlers of the champion.

ROBINSON was accused during questioning by Dr. Gerber of being "evasive." So was Gainford, later.

The Cleveland boxing commission reported that Jimmy Doyle was physically fit and ready when he entered the ring.

The report was prepared at the request of Mayor Thomas Burke.

Robinson Starts Rally As Bums Amble Ahead

NEW YORK, June 27 —(AP)— Brooklyn Dodgers vaulted into first place in the National League by a half game last night by outslugging Boston Braves 8-6 at Ebbets Field.

A crowd of 33,162 fans watched the Dodgers pile up a 6-1 lead and then blow it in the eighth when the Braves staged a five-run rally to tie up the game, but the rambling Brooks came back immediately and scored twice in their half to win.

JACKIE ROBINSON began the Dodgers' winning rally with a double off relief pitcher Si Johnson. Robinson scampered home with the tie breaking run on Dixie Walker's single and Walker ambled across with the insurance run when Johnny Beazley, fifth Brave pitcher, passed Ralph Branca with the bases loaded.

Branca, who gained credit for the win, his 10th, entered the game in the eighth and halted the Braves after they had scored their five runs. Mike McCormick homered for Boston and Carl Furillo for the Dodgers.

In other National League games, Cincinnati downed St. Louis 6-3, and Pittsburgh walked away from Chicago 8-0.

IN THE AMERICAN League, rookie righthander Joe Coleman of Philadelphia, snapped a six-game New York Yankee winning streak as he pitched seven-hit ball for a 4-2 victory for the A's.

Meanwhile Washington Senators downed Boston Red Sox 7-3 and Cleveland Indians defeated Chicago White Sox 5-1.

The Washington victory was number four for old Bobo Newsom as his mates clustered four runs off Earl Johnson in the seventh inning to ensure his victory.

Cleveland, on the strength of Al Gettel's four-hit hurling moved into fourth place by defeating Chicago.

Lansdowne Park Races Open Today

VANCOUVER, June 27—(CP)—Lansdowne Park races will open today as scheduled, a two-day armistice having been declared in the dispute between grooms, horsemen and promoters.

Al Hardy, manager of the B. C. Turf Club, has agreed to meet the grooms on Sunday in an effort to settle the argument over fees, and also claims of horsemen demanding return of open claiming.

The grooms demand continued payment of a fee for leading horses to the paddock before a race. The track promoters reply that this is only part of the groom's job.

Snead Scorches Chicago Course

CHICAGO, June 27 —(AP)— Sammy Snead, Hot Springs, Va., veteran, who blew the United States open title by missing a 30-inch putt, stroked a scorching eight-under-par 63 Thursday for an early first-round lead in the $15,000 Chicago Victory national golf tournament.

Par 71 on the flat Westward Ho course took a rousing beating as 52 pros and 25 amateurs launched the four-day event.

Two strokes behind Snead was George Payton, 24-year-old professional from Hampton, Va., who tapped 33-32—65. Four players, Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio, 1946 Masters' champion, Al Smith, stocky swinger from Danville, Va., Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., and Skip Alexander, Lexington, N. C., all fired 66's.

Legionnaires Burn Cakes 14-7

Grayer Pilots Airmen With Crafty 2-Hitter

Legionnaires cut loose with a vicious 17-hit attack at Kingsway last night to double the count on Dainty Cakes 14-7, and snaffle top rung in the Senior Men's Fastball League. ANA Vets, tied with the Legion for top spot up until last evening, missed a chance to maintain the deadlock when RCAF Aces socked them with a 9-4 deficit.

Dainty Cakes vaulted ahead 4-0 in the first three frames against Legionnaires. In the fourth, the provincial kings got to within striking distance with a brace of points. Then in the fifth the Legion bats ripped the Kingsway atmosphere with a volley of hits good for eight runs.

LONG AND Hansch singled, and crossed the platter on Colin Kilburn's towering triple to left. Kilburn nipped home on Sam Stevenson's single. Ross MacBeth and Bill Stevenson collected one - base clouts, leaving Bob O'Dell to clear the sacks with a double. Al Young reached first on an error, and he followed O'Dell home when Long singled on his second time up in the frame.

Anything else that happened in the slugfest was anticlimatic after that Legion foray.

DOUG GRAYER, hard - luck RCAF flinger, finally came into his own against the Vets, rocking them with a neat two-hitter. He helped his own cause along with a triple in the second inning to drive in a run. Ten Vets went down swinging against the Grayer magic.

Three runs in the second inning gave the airmen the lead for keeps, with runs in the third, fifth, and seventh frames clinching the verdict.

Transport Board Ends Hearing

29 Briefs Unanimous Opposing Rates Boost

The Board of Transport Commissioners Friday concluded sittings in Alberta in the proposed freight rate increase for Canadian railways during which 29 briefs were submitted representing a cross-section of the province's agricultural, commercial and industrial economy.

THE BRIEFS presented unanimous opposition to the granting of the 30 per cent increase in freight rates asked for by the railways, submitting that such increase would be detrimental to the development of this province. They requested that discriminations now existing in the freight rate structure should be removed, and urged that the application for the rate increase was premature, and should be delayed

It was suggested in the majority of the briefs that the granting of any increase across the board would only heighten the injustice this province had endured through the discriminatory rates now in effect.

The Board of Transport Commissioners will travel to Winnipeg to hold sittings in the Manitoba capital commencing June 30.

A BRIEF FROM the Labor Progressive Party was presented by Ben Swankey, leader of the party in Alberta opposing the proposed increase.

The Alberta Board of Trade and Agriculture submitted that no increase in freight rates should be granted until all avenues of cutting operating costs have been exhausted. It suggested elimination of duplicate services, and the joint operation of the rail companies.

The Alberta branch of the Retail Merchants of Canada called for the elimination of the discriminatory features of the rate structure as applied to Alberta and Western Canada, and said there was urgent need of a general overhaul to create a rate structure that would be based on the premise that Canada is one unit.

It was submitted that no part of the increase in freight rates could be absorbed by retail merchants, and it was estimated that if the increase request was granted it would increase consumers' bills by from four to five per cent.

The brief was presented by J. F. Lymburn, KC, while A. C. Mackay, Calgary, secretary-manager of the retailers' association, testified briefly.

THE WESTERN STOCK Growers' Association, representing Alberta's beef cattle industry, said the proposed increase would mean a reduction of between $5 and $7 a head in net returns to cattlemen on the estimated 300,000 animals marketed annually.

The Peace River-BC Joint Chambers of Commerce, and the Peace River Chamber of Commerce, in a joint brief, submitted that in no part of Canada are the producers so completely affected by the level of freight rates that applies on products shipped for sale.

Eight Members Receive Badges for Special Service

AMA Safety Patrol Youths Attend Banquet

About 300 boys and girls of the school safety patrol were the guests of the Alberta Motor Association at a dinner at the Macdonald hotel Thursday night. His Honor, Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen was guest speaker.

Safety patrol badges, in recognition of services rendered, were awarded to eight youthful boys of the patrol. Those receiving the badges were: Kevin Dissley, St. Alphonse's school; George Peterson, St. John's; Kenneth Macdonald, Rutherford; Lawrence Goodman, Ponoka; Phillip Johnston, and Danny Bodga, both of Camrose, all promoted to lieutenants; Danny Segin, McKay Avenue, and Bobby Doyle, promoted to captains.

THE BADGES WERE awarded by E. J. Smith, director of the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor Association.

Chairman Charles H Grant, KC, president of the Edmonton branch of the AMA, opened the program with a toast to the King. Dr. G. J. Hope, president of the Alberta AMA, gave a toast to the province of Alberta and city of Edmonton, which was responded to by Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, and J. B. Gillies, deputy mayor.

Toasts to the Edmonton Public School Board and the Separate School Board were proposed by Dr. W. E. Webber, and were answered by J. C. MacDonald, chairman of the Edmonton Public School Board, and F. J. Killeen, chairman of the Separate School Board.

Boys and girls of the school safety patrol were toasted by Walter Crawford, chairman of the school safety patrol. Responding to the toast were Robert Lawrence, Queen's Avenue; Miss Jean Summersgill, McCauley, and Alex Riddell, deputy chief constable.

HIS HONOR, Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, in his speech, commended the patrol upon the fine quality of its work and expressed the hope that this good work would continue in the future.

Jack Jones was chairman of the entertainment committee, and produced a fine show for the enjoyment of the young members of the patrol. Entertainers were Carrie Zurch, James Grant, William Lynch, Fred James Baker and Sam Hobson, pianist.

The program was brought to a close with the showing of pictures, sponsored by Sgt. James Muir and Constable Mortimer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

7,700 Throng to Arena To Hear Happy Gang

"Standing Room Only" sign was hung out last night as 7,700 persons the majority of them housewives, crammed the Arena to hear and see two hours of musical and comedy entertainment presented by the Happy Gang, well-known entertainers.

THE GANG is currently on a trans-Canada tour of 17 cities and towns. Beginning on June 13 in the east, the tour will end July 3 at the west coast, when members of the troupe go on annual holiday until rehearsal time next Sept. 1.

The appearance here was under the auspices of the Rotary Club, which, in addition to making all arrangements, provided ushers.

THE ENTIRE TROUPE was tired as a result of road-show grind, but they gave their all to the thousands who thronged the Arena. Cliff Mackay, clarinet player, was suffering from a broken shoulder received before the tour.

High point of the evening was Eddy Allen's rendition of The Lord's Prayer. It stilled the entire Arena, as eager faces reflected in the glow of light. A dropped pin might not have been heard, but the Arena was as quiet as 7,700 persons, with bated breath and focussed attention, could be.

THE HAPPY GANG played everything from jigs and reels and marches to boogie woogie, swing, and formal violin-organ selections by Blaine Mathe and Kaye Stokes.

Housewives and bobby soxers clamored for autographs. Women "shrieked" during Eddie Allen's love songs. Hilarious laughter marked Bert Pearl's mimicking of a four-year-old boy in straitened physical circumstances.

Roxy Wood, four and one-half-year-old daughter of Dave Wood, presented Kaye Stokes with a bouquet of flowers.

During their stay Thursday, the Happy Gang entertained hospitalized veterans at the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion.

The troupe will play Calgary tonight.

1,500 to Register

Summer Courses Open At University July 3

University of Alberta summer school begins Thursday, July 3, when 1,500 teachers and students from all parts of Alberta complete registration and begin classes, it was announced Friday by Dr. H. E. Smith of the faculty of education, who is in charge of the summer school session.

With one of the biggest classes ever registered at the university, this years' summer session will conclude Aug. 12

Although mainly teachers will attend, a large number of university students in arts and science, applied science and agriculture will take courses. Many of these students are veterans who are attending summer school to complete their requirements

Students are allowed to take a maximum of two courses from the broad selection on the study program. Each course consists of two hours' lectures per day, with much homework. A great deal of preparatory work is usually required before the session begins as students attempt to complete in less than six weeks a course which on the normal university curriculum requires seven months of lectures

CHANGED FROM PREVIOUS years, drama classes are expected to present a one-week show at the end of the summer school in place of the two-night programs of the past. A big drama demonstration will also be held.

Musical concerts and demonstrations will be held at the university during the sessions.

Also on the extra-curiculum agenda are public lectures with special guest speakers in attendance, a full atheltic program, dances twice weekly, moving pictures, and a daily mimeographed news sheet.

Special family welfare lectures, discussions and demonstrations are planned, with well-qualified instructors supervising them

FOLLOWING ARE some of the lecturers brought specially from other universities and institutions to teach summer school classes:

Dr. Walter Bloom, Yuba College, California, psychology; Dr. Evelyn March, Maryland, who will give courses in general guidance; Dr. Gordon Turner, University of Western Ontario, mental hygiene; Miss Edna McCallum, London, Ont. primary reading; Dr. H. G. Wheat, University of West Virginia, arithmetic specialist; Russell West, assistant superintendent of schols, Ann Arbor, Michigan; Dr. L. H. Bussard, University of Minnesota, clinical psychology; Professor E. A. McCourat, University of Saskatchewan, English lecturer; Dr. E. Shortcliffe, Queen's University, French; Dr. Eileen Dunham, Wooster College, Ohio, history; Dr. S. R. Tomkins, University of Oklahoma, Russian history; Miss Hazel Baggs and Miss Gladys Dickson, Toronto, who will teach courses in kindergarten supervision.

Congratulations

Optimist Club Hears Louis Day

Louis I. Day, sales manager of McGavin's bakery, was guest speaker at an Optimist Club luncheon in the Macdonald hotel, Thursday.

He gave a brief talk on the history of McGavin's bakery. Later the members, escorted by George C. Geddes, superintendent, were shown through the bakery and followed the process of breadmaking.

Max. C. Dewar, attending the luncheon on behalf of the Edmonton United campaign, gave a short address thanking the club for the support it is giving the drive

$50 Minimum Urged

Defeat New Attempt Boost Pension Rate

By Douglas How

OTTAWA, June 27—(CP)—Lanky, persistent Stanley Knowles ,CCF member for Winnipeg North Centre, confronted the Commons with a seemingly revolutionary hitch in parliamentary procedure yesterday but the government mustered enough strength to overthrow his effort to use it as a lever to increase the basic old age pensions to $50 instead of $30 a month.

THE HOUSE was pitched into a procedural argument as Mr. Knowles cited constitutional authority to back his contention that he was entitled to move for that raise during clause-by-clause study in committee of the whole of the government's bill to lift the basic pension from $25 to $30.

With the support of three opposition members, the government sustained Ross Madonald, committee chairman, by a vote of 82 to 61, in his ruling that any motions that would increase taxation must stem from the cabinet.

The gist of the argument by Mr. Knowles was that since the government had mentioned no sum as a maximum pension in the resolution preceding the bill he was in order in inserting that amount in committee stage.

LIBERAL MEMBERS shouted "filibuster' at the CCF and Social Credit groups during the night sitting as they clung tenaciously to the important clause in the pensions bill which provides for an increase in the pensions rate from$25 to $30 a month.

Constant repetition of arguments advanced during general debate dotted the clause-by-clause study.

The only advance was passage of one minor clause among the nine in the bill.

CCF and Social Credit members continued to call for an increase to $50 a month and several speakers urged abolition of the clause barring reserve Indians from right to the pension.

ANGUS MacINNIS (CCF—Vancouver East), John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre), Solon Low, Social Credit leader, and Progressive Conservative leader Bracken supported Mr. Knowles.

During questioning of Health Minister Martin, Mr. Bracken asked him to say "frankly" why the government, in the face of its proposals to the provinces two years ago, was bringing in legislation under which the Dominion would pay only 75 per cent of the pension.

Mr. Martin said it was true that the Dominion had a national scheme of federally-paid pensions to all over 70 without a means test and pensions, paid equally by the Dominion and the provinces, to persons of 65 to 69.

But the proposals were part of an over-all scheme which also embraced national health insurance and public investment. The government still stood behind that plan.

Defer Marriage On Lean Income

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a spoil-girl of 18, accustomed to every luxury. I am engaged to a boy who has a good job with a future to it, but right now he is making a very small salary. Would you advise us to marry now, or wait until he makes more money?

MARY D.

Answer: Unless you feel that you have within yourself enough courage, determination and grit to endure the hardships and make the sacrifices, as such a marriage you are contemplating would demand of you, then don't marry now. Don't bring upon yourself the sordid squabbles over bills that you would be bound to have.

HAVE THE courage to face facts. It is possible for a couple to exist on a small salary, but when you have been used to every comfort and luxury it is pretty hard going. It would mean living in poor and drab surroundings. Eating cheap food wearing shabby clothes. Breaking away from all of your old associates with whom you can no longer keep up. Having no amusements. Being thrown continually on each other for every pleasure, happiness and diversion. Is your love strong enough to stand that test?

More than that, you must consider that there might be babies, doctors' bills, more anxiety, more labor, more heartbreaking worries; strain and irritability on both sides and a harassed husband and wife getting on each other's nerves.

For your sake and the boy's sake, I would certainly advise you to wait until you have much larger income before you get married. It will be best for you and best for him, because the man who gets married before he is financially able handicaps his whole future and has little chance of ever getting ahead.

Dear Miss Dix: We have a nice home and my wife and I love each other and we get along very well, except for one thing. She will not allow me to invite any of my friends in for an evening.

I work hard to make things go, but I am begining to feel that I am keeping the house just going for my wife and her friends. Unless conditions change, it will drive me from home. What can I do about this matter?

A HARD-WORKING MAN

Answer: It is easy enough to settle if you have the backbone to assert yourself as head of the house. You pay the freight But for you there would be no home. If that doesn't give you a right to at least a partnership in it, I don't know what does.

PERSONALLY, I have never known whether to marvel more at the subtlety and astuteness with which women have managed to monopolize all the privileges and perquisites of the home while leaving men to hold the bag, or to wonder at the ease with which men have permitted themselves to be flim-flammed out of all their natural rights in the matter.

My advice is to tell your wife frankly and emphatically that you are going to meet your friends somewhere, and that if you cannot ask them to your own home, it will have to be away from it. This may wake her up to the realization that she might lose you and that she had better get busy and put welcome on the mat for your friends.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Q. "My hips simply bulge out and all in one place. In the waist and on the upper hip line I am slender and then suddenly this amazing shelf! What can I do? Diet won't do it. I have tried."

A. Hold everything. Exercise will do the trick. I am giving you two of the very best. Sit on the floor with your legs straight out in front of you, resting on the floor. Now lift your legs and lean back until you come to the point at which your hips are largest. Keep your legs off the floor while you roll from side to side, on the largest part of your hips, catching yourself with your hands on each side.

Another one: Lie on the floor on your back with your knees bent and your feet on the floor, arms resting on the floor at your sides. Lift your heels from the floor but keep your toes on it as you roll from side to side, slapping your thighs against the floor on each side.

Q. "I am a girl of 16 and am slightly backward because of bowlegs. They are not exactly bowed but it seems that my ankles give away when I walk. Is there some way you can help me strengthen my ankles? Please help me."

A. Do these exercises: Stand tall. Place your hand on the back of a chair to help keep your balance. Now rise high on your toes. Next bend your knees half way down, still on your toes. Again straighten knees and rise high on toes then bend knees again. Stay on your toes the whole time you are doing this exercise. Another: Sit on the chair and stretch your legs out in front of you, heels resting on the floor, feet about ten inches apart. Turn your entire foot in. Now turn it out. Continue.

Q. "My problem is, I have fat feet. I am 5 feet, 6 inches tall, and weigh 135 pounds. What kind of exercise can I take to reduce my feet? How long will it take?"

. I wonder if someone is kidding me! Anyway, I cannot help you reduce your feet since there are no exercises or diets for that special purpose.

Q. "Which makes the leg appear smaller, seamless stockings or those with seams?"

A. I think seamless stockings are more flattering.

Q. "Will swimming give one heavy shoulders? Some swimmers I have seen look that way."

A. Swimming does develop the arm, chest and shoulder muscles, but the persons you see who look like that are individuals who have trained hard at this sport for years. The usual swimming we do will only build lovely contour.

For those not brave enough to take the hip measurement Actress Joan Winfield does above, Josephine Lowman has given some helpful exercises in her column today.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The subject of comic books crops up periodically. Are they bad for children and should children be allowed an unlimited diet of them?

This time the question comes from the young reader herself. Shirley Jane writes that she is 10 and her sister is 9 and her mother thinks it isn't good for them to read the comic books. She asks, "What kind do you think are best?"

Let's try to understand, Shirley, why you like the comics and why your mother disapproves of them. They are very easy to read, you agree to that. They have simple words. The colors are bright and the pictures easy to understand almost without words for explanation. They make it possible for you to follow a story without being too good a reader.

The stories are highly adventurous, too. You like that because there are lots of things your mother won't let you do, which you would like to do. She says they are dangerous. But the most amazing things happen in the comic books, adventures the likes of which no little boy or girl could ever take part in personally.

You enjoy that. It gives you thrills and chills just to read about them. And, in a way, that's a lot less dangerous than for you to try to do the same things. We call this vicarious adventuring and it isn't the least bit harmful to you if you can get your thrills out of looking at pictures of dangerous doings and omit imitating them yourself.

But, because the comics are so easy to read and so exciting, they may prevent you from discovering that there are more desirable types of reading which you are denying yourself. Maybe not books that are so easy to read, but books that will give you other types of more lasting satisfaction.

There are books of comic about real people and their real adventures and these are the best of the lot. But all comics should be just a part of your regular reading program and I am sure if you show your mother that they are, she will not objct when you want to indulge in them.

Our leaflet No. 79 "Books for Children," include some of the good classics as well as more modern books. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Myer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

CYCLIST INJURED

Knocked from his bicycle while riding in the exhibition grounds about 6.45 p.m. Thursday, Donovan Dittrich, 10223 106 avenue, suffered a cut on the leg which required six stitches.

He told police he had just entered the gate on 118 avenue and was travelling south when an automobile pulled around a parked truck and struck him.

Ask Special Rate Produce Shipments

Special consideration should be given to necessities such as fruits and vegetables, if it is found necessary to increase freight rates in Canada, a brief from fruit and vegetable wholesalers of Alberta suggested Thursday to the board of Transport Commissioners, holding regional sittings here in the freight rate increase enquiry.

It was pointed out that fruit and vegetables are important items of diet, so important that the general healh of the people would be seriously impaired if anything were to reduce supplies, or to make it impossible for the average consumer to purchase his needs, even though supplies were plentiful.

A very large proportion of Alberta's fruits and vegetables are brought from outside the province, and in the crop year of 1946-47 the importation into this province was 30 per cent of the total shipped into western provinces.

The brief submitted figures of freight rates prevailing in similar areas of the United States, which were considerably lower than this in western Canada, and suggested it was time for a downward rather than an upward swing in rates on vegetables and fruits.

Unusual Daisy Found in Garden

An unusual daisy with a cluster of petals, normally found at the edge of these flowers, growing out of the centre, was brought to The Edmonton Bulletin Thursday by W. A. Greenfield, 9457 100 avenue. The flower, a large specimen with white petals and golden centre, was a little more rounded than usual, and at the crest of the yellow centre there were more petals. Playing "he loves me—he loves me not" with this blossom would present a new feature.

Aussie Clubs for Canuck Women Have 400 Members

By LEONE KIRKWOOD

SYDNEY, Australia, June 27 —(CP)— Canadian war brides in Australia find ready help with the problem of unravelling the mysteries of life "down under." Not the least of it comes from Canadian women's clubs in New South and Victoria States.

The two clubs which started out with about 26 members now have a combined membership of about 400. The Canadians say their chief reason for joining the clubs is to hear familiar accents.

The clubs meet every third Monday in the month at [illegible] o'clock in the afternoon for a three-hour get-together. The women, including recently arrived brides, set aside the first half hour of meeting time for conversation, usually devoted to reminiscence. Then the meetings are called to order for business.

THE BIG problem facing the clubs right now is how to raise money. They want to expand—to get clubrooms of their own and furnish them.

Club members realize the way to combat homesickness is to have an interest in Australian affairs. Consequently, although part of meetings is devoted to talk about Canada, part is set aside also for discussion of an Australian nature. Australian documentary films are shown and speakers are engaged to talk on subjects ranging from literature to home-cooking.

The clubs swing into action for recruits before potential members leave Canada for Australia. They obtain a list of Canadian brides coming out and when the girls arrive, they are met and invited to join. Some club members have been in Australia for 20 years and they are the ones to whom the new members turn for advice.

"Mother" of the Sydney club is Mrs. N. R. McMorran, wife of the traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company here. A resident of Australia for some 20 years, Mrs. McMorran decided in 1936 that Canadian women in Sydney should keep in touch. And so, the club came into being with a roll of 26. At that time it helped Canadians settling here with advice and, occasionally, with money.

NOW THE SIDNEY club has a membership of more than 200. Mrs. McMorran is still president but during her current visit to Canada, the mantle of leadership has fallen on the shoulders of the first vice-president, Mrs. [illegible]

The Melbourne, Victoria, club has a shorter history. It was set up in 1940 by Mrs. [illegible] wife of a former Canadian trade commissioner.

Both clubs have a war record. The Melbourne club helped to establish a home for war orphans and furnished a club for seamen at Williamstown, Victoria. The Sydney club specialized in canteen work and established a tea room at 113th Australian Army General Hospital.

In addition, it presented a motor car bearing a maple leaf emblem to an institution for women.

But in war or peace they have not forgotten their primary purpose—to help their countrywomen become adapted to the Australian way of life.

Domestic Work As a Career

"Up Against It" Britain Appeals for Women's Aid

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

LONDON, June 27 —(CP)— British women who worked at factory benches to help beat Hitler are being urged to work again to stave off national poverty.

"We can't get on without the women," shout government advertisements.

"Britain is up against it. Try and free yourself for work whole-time or part-time. In the next big effort you can be one of the women who turn the tide of recovery."

The campaign began this month. Sir Godfrey Ince, secretary of the labor ministry, said that outside Northern England, Scotland and Wales there are 35,000 unemployed women and girls and about 300,000 vacancies outstanding at employment offices.

More than 3,000,000 women were working full-time in manufacturing industries when war employment reached its peak. More than 377,000 more were in part-time jobs. By March this year the figures had dropped to 2,198,000 and 315,000 as women went back into the home as service demobilization progressed.

Government officials acknowledged it will be difficult to reverse the flow. Many of the jobs which urgently need filling are in unpopular industries such as cotton mills where wages are relatively low and working conditions often unsatisfactory.

"Join your friends at work . . . Put more money in your bag," advise the government advertisements. But there are many who contend this argument will carry little weight.

"Most women whose economic circumstances require that they should work are already at work," said the Manchester Guardian. "Additional female labor on any large scale must be drawn mainly from married women whose husbands earn enough to keep their families going and who must, therefore, be encouraged to go to work for reasons other than the necessity of earning a living for themselves."

During the war women were put to work at heavy jobs and light jobs, dirty jobs and clean jobs wherever they were needed. The new campaign is on a different basis, Labor Minister George Isaacs in a radio address said.

1. Women will not be asked to do jobs usually done by men.

2. Mothers of the very young are not wanted.

3. Women with heavy home responsibilities should not look for a job; and

4. This is a temporary problem and only a few months' work by any woman will help.

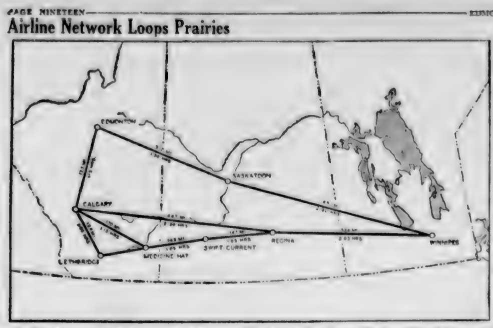
Airline Network Loops Prairies



With the inauguration of service July 1 over the 763-mile airway direct from Winnipeg to Edmonton, passing through Saskatoon, Trans-Canada Air Lines expands its prairie network to throw a 1,700 mile loop of air serice around the principal western centres and brings them closer than ever before in point of time. Medicine Hat, Swift Current and Saskatoon become new T.C.A. stops that day. The map shows how distances across the three provinces have been collapsed in terms of travelling time.

PEOPLE OF AFRICA

In spite of its great area, Africa is not among the most populous of the continents—for one thing, few people live in the deserts that cover so much of it. The population is estimated at 150,000,000. This is a very rough estimate, however, since no census has ever been taken in many areas.

In foreground an Arab cemetery in Tunisia. In the distance are the buildings of Kairouan, sacred city of the Mohammedans. The Mohammedans are very numerous in Africa, particularly in North Africa and the Sudan.

There is a great difference between the races to the north and east of the Sahara and those to the south. In the north and east, most of the natives belong either to the Semitic or Hamitic branches of mankind. Both Semites and Hamites were originally of pure Caucasian (white) stock: some of them, however, have inter-married with the Negroes to the south.

In general, one may say that the Semites include the Arab and Jews of northern Africa and also many inhabitants of Ethiopia, where the mixture of Negro blood has been particularly great. The Hamites include many Egyptians, the Berbers of northwest Africa, the Tuarezs and Kabyles of the desert and certain peoples of eastern Africa.

To the south of the Sahara, we find the Negro races which make up the great majority of the continent's inhabitants. The Negros who dwell to the north are called the Sudanese. Farming is their principle occupation. South of the Sudanese are the Bantu races, of which the Zulus, the Kaffirs and the Bechuanas are perhaps the most prominent. The Bantus are good farmers, many of them raise cattle on a fairly large scale.

French African native hunters, with the nets and hardwood spears which they use to trap and kill wild animals.

The Bushmen, who dwell chiefly in the lands south of the Zambezi River, are generally classed as Negros, but they differ greatly from the pure Negro type. They are quite short: their skins are yellowish brown: their skulls are shaped differently. The Bushmen are nomadic (that is, wandering) hunters. Their neighbors, the Hottentots, resemble them; however, the Hottentots are a more peaceful race, quite content to tend their herds of cattle.

Scattered over the forest regions of Central Africa are a number of brown-skinned pigmy tribes, which are supposed to be descended from the earliest inhabitants of the continent. They are hardly ever more than 4½ feet tall. The pigmies are mighty little hunters. They use clever nets, traps and nooses to catch all sorts of game.

Since the 19th century, when Africa was colonized on a large scale by the nations of Europe, the number of white inhabitants has greatly increased. However, they still form a comparatively small part of the total population.

About one-half of the inhabitants of Africa worship native gods. The Mohammedans are also very numerous, particularly in North Africa and in the Sudan. They greatly outnumber the Christians. Most of Africia's Jews are settled in the northwestern costal regions. There are numbers of Hindus in some of the British colonies in the continent.

Bandits Hold Up Winnipeg Office

WINNIPEG, June 27—(CP)—Two young masked, armed bandits held up the Public Finance Corporation in downtown Winnipeg yesterday and escaped with $175 cash. The men entered the company office with drawn revolvers, herded three women employes and a customer into a back room and then rifled the till. The manager, L. Polsky, said the bandits missed an envelope in the till containing $550 cash and did not touch any of "a considerable number" of cheques. "It was hardly worth their while," he added. The men also missed a purse containing $100 which was lying on a counter. It belonged to a woman employe.

Report on Love Life of Whales Makes Sad Reading For Bachelors

By Arthur Edson

WASHINGTON, June 27 —(AP)—Dr. Raymond Gilmore, United States government expert on the love life of the whale, issued his report today.

His verdict: Some have a lot. Some don't have any. It all depends.

Dr. Gilmore, biologist for the fish and wildlife service, made his report for the Smithsonian Institution after his trip with the United States Navy's Antarctic expedition.

Bachelors everywhere will find the study sad reading.

It seems that sperm whales are polygamous. One or two males of this species will collect a bunch of good looking cow whales and set up seakeeping in tropical or sub-tropical waters.

This leaves quite a few male whales with nothing much to do but go down to the Antarctic and sulk. Which they do.

"The Antarctic bulls," the Smithsonian says, "presumably are animals which have been unable to find a place for themselves in harems.

"In many cases they may be old animals who have been ousted by stronger young bulls. For these the Antarctic waters serve as a sort of 'old bulls' summer home'."

The United States government takes an unromantic view of a whale suffering from unrequited love. As far as the government is concerned, a male whale which can't be caught by a female may as well be caught by whalers.

No Early Effect U.S. Coal Strike

BY CHESTER BLOOM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, June 27.—No immediate effect on Canada's coal supply will be felt from the wildcat strikes of coal miners in the United States, for at least a month and possibly two months, according to officials of the coal division, government department of reconstruction. The situation is different this year from last when Canada faced a serious position due to the early spring coal strikes in the United States.

Under emergency powers last year, the government coal controller and the Canadian shipping board diverted temporarily all lake carriers from twenty to twenty-two million tons per year of U.S. bituminous coal, most of which is used in Ontario and Quebec. At the close of last year's navigation, all Canada's minmum requirements were provided for plus an emergency reserve of one and a half million tons of bituminous and a million tons of anthracite.

This position has been fairly well maintained. Ever since navigation opened this year, coal transport to Canada has been pushed with utmost energy. Enough is on hand now to insure 100 per cent operation of the railways, pulp, and steel mills and other big industries as well as individual buyers for the next month and possibly two months.

Find Sympathizers Smuggling Nazis

Dorn Jensen, police Lawyer, said yesterday. He said the main task of the organization had been the smuggling of prominent Germans, Danish Nazis and collaborators to Sweden, where they were sent to Latin America.

Shortage Closes Chrysler Plant

WINDSOR, Ont., June 27—(CP)—Because of a shortage of steel, the Chrysler Corporation of Canada announced here yesterday that its plants here will be shut down for one week starting Monday. The move affects about 3,250 hourly-rated workers. The week has been declared the regular annual one-week vacation with pay accorded all hourly workers.

Divert Russian Youth to Jobs

FIREBUG CONFESSES

WINNIPEG, (CP)—The United Kingdom took 1,000,000 bushels of wheat under the Canadian wheat agreement in the only export business reported on Winnipeg grain exchange Friday.

Rye futures prices developed an easier tone in sympathy with the decline of grain at Chicago. There was some selling by commission houses and locals as support was not very aggressive. Trading was quiet in the early session but livened towards the close.

At the close July was 3½ lower at $3.80 bid; October was 9 lower at $2.37⅞-$2.38⅛; December was 9⅝-9 lower at $2.20⅛ asked-$2.20⅛.

Cash prices: Rye: 1 C.W. 3.80¼; Oats: 65 cents; Barley: 93 cents.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, (AP)—All grains declined on the board of trade Friday, although corn at times showed some strength on buying through commission houses.

Moderate hedging was the main factor in the downturn of wheat, which dropped more than a cent at times. Corn encountered profit-taking late in the session and oats turned weak in sympathy with the yellow grain.

Wheat closed ¾-2¼ lower, July 2.16¾; corn was 1⅛-1¾ lower, July 1.99½-¾; and oats were ⅝-1¼ lower, July 96½.

PREMIER GOLD TRADING

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Share trading in Premier Gold Mine stock has been extended on the Vancouver stock exchange to July 10, it was announced.

The company is to be liquidated and its cash assets of more than $1,000,000 distributed to shareholders. Stock transfers, it was announced, may be made up to and including July 15.

Wheat production in India for 1947 is now placed at 305 million bushels, somewhat below last year's poor harvest, and the lowest on
